ORMISTON IS FOUND AT HARRISBURG AND ARRESTED

Noted Fugitive Already On Way To Los Angeles

Departure Is Made From Harrisburg This Morning In Secret

ORMISTON REFUSES TO DISCUSS CASE

Tells Reporter Where He Has Been While Officers Hunted Him

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 9.—Kenneth Ormiston, arrested here by Chicago Detectives Charles Bonnelly and Harry Ellwood, in connection with the Aimee McPherson case in Los Angeles, left here today for Los Angeles, having waived extradition.

Ormiston submitted to arrest willingly and expressed a desire to return to Los Angeles to answer charges of subordination, of perjury and conspiracy to defeat justice, the charges growing out of the McPherson case. He formerly was Mrs. McPherson's chief radio operator at Angelus Temple.

Three detectives, Charles Donnelly and Harry Ellwood of Chicago, and Oscar Carson of Harrisburg, arrested the missing radio operator in his apartment here early this morning. Police said he had occupied the apartment for the last two or three weeks.

Leaves Secretly

Utmost secrecy shrouded Ormiston's departure from Harrisburg in custody of the detectives. He was slipped out of the Pennsylvania capital so quietly that no one other than those closely connected with the case knew when he left.

It was understood at police headquarters that the Ormiston party would go to Chicago first, and from there to Los Angeles. Local police refused to reveal on what train the party left, but it is believed that Ormiston and his captors boarded Pennsylvania train number 13 for Pittsburgh.

This train left Harrisburg at eight a. m. and was due in Pittsburgh at 1:50 this afternoon. If the party is aboard this train they must change trains at Pittsburgh for Chicago, as number 13 is bound for St. Louis.

Although Asa Keyes, district attorney of Los Angeles, was expected to arrive here today to take charge of Ormiston, the Chicago detectives were not inclined to await his arrival, apparently desiring to get en route to Chicago before Ormis-

Santa's Dirigible Coming Across Lake Erie; Will Be Here Early Friday

Latest Message Says Party Will Be In New Castle For Pageant Tomorrow

All Are Eager To Greet Youngsters In New Castle And Western Pennsylvania

By THOMAS DARE
By Radiogram to The New Castle News

ON BOARD THE DIRIGIBLE CHEERIO, SOMEWHERE OVER LAKE ERIE, Dec. 9.—This will be the last radiogram from me on this trip to New Castle. For some time tonight, or perhaps early Friday morning, while you are still tucked up in your little beds, this big cigar-shaped dirigible, the Cheerio, will be stopping over one of your prosperous Lawrence county farms and then, boys and girls, after we get cleaned up after this long trip and Nuctooh gets his hair combed, we will all be ready to come in to New Castle for the big parade Friday morning.

Water All Around

Just now we are hovering over Lake Erie, and away off in the distance we can see the shore lights of Buffalo. On all sides of us we can see nothing but water, huge waves rolling up with a chilly, frosty nose on them, looking as if they would be tickled to reach up and grab all of us for an icy bath.

The motors are humming on the dirigible, Nuctooh is hanging over the side looking at the big waves, and the Brownies are up to their usual funny antics. One of them pulled the chair out from under The Old Woman Who Lived In The Shoe and she heaved a pillow at him. The pillow missed the Brownie by a foot and sailed out through an open window.

Down, down, down, hundreds of feet it dropped, turning over in a series of crazy somersaults and finally dropping into Lake Erie. You should have heard Nuctooh laugh.

Some time late this afternoon we will cross the line into the United States and then, straight down into Pennsylvania and ho for New Castle.

What a parade that will be tomorrow morning. All the Brownies will be in line, Santa Claus will be in his sleigh, with his big gift pack, The Old Woman Who Lived In a Shoe will be there, and then there will be plenty of bands from New Castle.

Crowd to See Parade

The school children will be out to see the parade and you should be there, too. Be sure to tell your father and mother that you want to

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. — The question of launching new inquiries into the Pennsylvania election and the Maine primary was placed today before the Reed committee, which spent the summer investigating charges of corruption and fraud in a half dozen senatorial campaigns.

As the committee faces a momentous task to complete a report on its earlier inquiries into the $3,000,000 Pennsylvania primary and $1,000,000 Illinois primary, as well as the Indiana, Washington, Oregon and Arizona primaries, there

Doheny Family Give Testimony

All Declare That $100,000 Loan To Fall Was Private Transaction

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. — The Dohenys, father, mother and son, told the jury in a dramatic session in the Fall-Doheny conspiracy trial today that there was no basis for the Government's charge that the elder Doheny, the multimillionaire oil man, had bribed ex-secretary of interior Albert B. Fall in connection with the lease of the rich Elk Hills naval oil reserve.

First Mrs. Doheny, then Doheny, Jr., and finally Doheny himself said the famous $100,000 loan to Fall was a private transaction pure and simple between old friends, and the money was not given with any idea that the elder Doheny would be favored by Fall in the oil leases.

THOUSANDS WILL GREET SANTA HERE FRIDAY MORNING

New Castle Christmas Pageant Event to Be Greatest Holiday Event of Kind in City's History — Christmas Tree Being Erected on Public Square—All Plans For Pageant Are Completed.

Every youngster in New Castle, and a large section of western Pennsylvania, and more adults than you can imagine, are agog today, for just around the corner, just one sleep away in fact, is the New Castle Christmas pageant, the biggest affair of its kind ever attempted in this part of the state, a pageant that will mark this Christmas as no event has ever marked the season.

Friday morning, Dec. 10, which is tomorrow, at 11 o'clock, the pageant moves out from North Jefferson street and the Public Square, and in the line of march will be seen Santa Claus, the Brownies, The Old Woman Who Lived In A Shoe, and hauling Santa and his toy pack will be a string of genuine Alaskan reindeers, brought from Alaska for this purpose.

Real Eskimos

And of course, Eskimos. Everybody knows that Santa Claus is a neighbor of the Eskimos, and a family of these quaint people has been brought from Alaska to add to the Christmas spirit in New Castle this year.

Never has such interest been shown in an affair like this before. Rex Patch, general chairman, has been besieged with hundreds of requests to have the parade pass certain places, in order to give some youngster or group of youngsters an opportunity of seeing the spectacle.

Unfortunately this is impossible, for the parade cannot be routed over every street from which requests have come. Much as Mr. Patch and his assistants would like to do this, it is obviously impossible, although an attempt will be made to get Santa Claus around to the hospitals and perhaps other institutions.

The Christmas tree will be erected on the Public Square, and the scores of gaily colored lights will be illuminated for the program which will be presented there Friday evening.

Schools Will Be Out.

Every school in the city will be dismissed for the happy occasion, and while it is not obligatory upon the part of the students to march, it is expected that hundreds of them will do so. Those boys and girls who have received tickets for costumes will be dismissed earlier than the rest and will go to the Young Men's Christian Association on the square where they will get their costumes well in time for the parade.

Every boy and girl in this city and surrounding counties should see the pageant Friday morning. And every adult should see it also. No one is too old or too big to retain the Christmas spirit in his heart, and aside from the spectacle the pageant affords, it behooves all of us to see it, just for the sake of the kiddies.

The weather indications today are that the weather man will be kindly towards the pageant. If it keeps the way it is today, the streets of New Castle will see a crowd of not less than 25,000 people to witness the pageant. Mr. Patch stated today that because it would be a bad thing to keep people waiting about the streets in the

Rescuers Hope To Reach Miners Still Entombed

Thirty-Six Are Caught In Indiana Mine Following Explosion

(International News Service)

FRANCISCO, Ind., Dec. 9.—Thirty-six men remained entombed in Mine No. 2 of the Francisco Coal Mining Company here at 10:30 a. m. (C. S. T.) today following a dust explosion early this morning while the day shift was going down into the mine.

Thirty-three men have been brought up alive. Of these 17 were seriously burned and have been rushed to the Methodist hospital at Princeton, Indiana.

Reports Some Dead

The fate of the 36 entombed men was not definitely ascertained although reports were current that a number of them were dead.

Rescue crews were working feverishly to reach the men who are said to be 286 feet below the surface.

J. R. Henderson, manager of the mine, expressed confidence that most of the entombed miners would be rescued in a few hours although he admitted no one knew the extent of the cavein.

"There are 125 competent rescue workers mobilized for the rescue work," Henderson said. "We are sending down rescue gangs in shifts of 25 men."

Arthur Mometer

I have plenty of socks and plenty of hose and plenty of gay colored shirts goodness knows, I don't need a thing that I want folks to get, for Christmas for me, as a present and yet, if they cannot resist spending money on me, to gladden my heart and load up the old tree, there's a thing they can buy for a dime, little more, and of these things I hope I get hit by the score. Its a bit of card with a greeting for me, just a wee bit of pasteboard I'm asking you see.. I dont want a soul to spend money for ties, and those Christmas cigars bring up too many lies, I have an old pipe, and my shirts are all good, and there's nothing I'd ask you to get if I could.. But a card is quite different, it represents you, and means its a hale hearty how do you do, and I'm always delighted on Christmas to see, a bundle of cards, weather's still thirty three.

If you happen to be suffering with that low, depressed feeling or if your spirits are registering a subzero temperature, have hope, my dear brother, relief is at hand. Was and is, in the shape of the senior high school play, "A Lucky Break", presented for the first time Wednesday evening in the school auditorium and will be repeated this evening, barring fire, flood and the recurrence of the 17-year locust.

Just why Zelda Sears, the author, named it "A Lucky Break" is someing for the short session of congress to determine, for the name seems to have little relation to the play. About as much as a five-room cottage does to cottage pudding, but this is not to be considered as belittlin'. It isn't, for Miss Sears could have called it the Johnstown Flood and it would have detracted none from the laughing qualities of this very clever little farce-comedy.

For Laughers Only.

It's for laughing purposes only, and proves little in a serious way, save perhaps, that there is a Santa Claus, and that the pulchritude of the New Castle high school lassies seems to be increasing in quality every year. Or else the years of observation have sharpened our appreciation.

Coast Attorney Says Ormiston To Stand Trial

Los Angeles Officials On Way East To Meet Radio Operator

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9.—"The state will prosecute Ormiston the same as anybody else and we do not care whether he talks or not."

In these words Deputy District Attorney E. J. Dennison made it clear today that Kenneth G. Ormiston, elusive Angelus Temple radio operator, would have to stand trial on the same charges on which Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Seilaff were recently held to answer to the superior court after their preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Samuel Blake.

Dennison added that two Los Angeles detectives would be sent immediately to meet Ormiston and "see that he reaches Los Angeles."

Actress' Case To Reach Jury Late This Afternoon

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9.—Attorney Earl Reed, counsel for Anne Caldwell, New York actress, ended his closing argument in the actress' $500,000 heart balm suit against John W. Hubbard shortly after noon and Federal Judge W. H. S. Thompson announced a short recess, following which he was to give final instructions to the jury. The case was expected to go to the jury this afternoon.

Rody Marshall, defense counsel, scored Miss Caldwell in his closing argument, referring to here as "a clever, crafty woman, who has rubbed shoulders with the world for 13 years." He charged that the actress made no plans to marry the wealthy clubman, and that she sought only such advantages as his wealth might bring her.

Reed, referring to Hubbard as "a bad actor with women," pleaded with the jury to punish the wealthy manufacturer for his alleged breach of promise.

Operation Saves Youngster's Life In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9.—Medical science, brought to the aid of Erba Fratangelo, seven, today had succeeded in sending the child well on the way to health. The boy, reported near death from an abscess on the lung, was rushed to a hospital, where an X-ray revealed a rusty nail, three-fourths of an inch long, lodged in the lung.

A bronchoscope, operated by Dr. Homer McCready of the hospital staff, dislodged the object. The child was believed to have swallowed the nail while at play.

NOTED FUGITIVE ALREADY ON WAY TO LOS ANGELES

ton had a chance to change his mind regarding extradition.

Donnelly and Ellwood arrived here from Chicago last night to make the arrest, Ellwood having been on the trail of Ormiston for some time, it was said.

When arrested in the apartment which he has occupied in Harrisburg Ormiston, who was using the name of "Fred Lininger", immediately admitted his identity. He told police that he has been making his living by writing and soliciting subscriptions for radio magazines.

Aimee Not Interested

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9.—Aimee Semple McPherson attaches "no significance whatsoever" to the fact that Kenneth G. Ormiston has been found in Harrisburg, Pa.

She so declared here today when informed the former radio operator of her Angelus Temple had been located.

"I am not in the least concerned about or interested in Mr. Ormiston's whereabouts," the famous evangelist said.

Mrs. McPherson added she was too busy with the Christmas program of her temple to be bothered about "matters that did not concern her in the least."

Throughout her sensational case the noted evangelist has steadfastly denied that she was Ormiston's companion in his Carmel cottage, as was claimed by District Attorney Asa Keyes.

Tells of Recent Life

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 9.—When a Chicago Herald-Examiner reporter, having traced him for several months, knocked last night on the door of the Front street flat, it was Ormiston who opened. He made no attempt at deception when he was addressed as "Mr. Ormiston."

"Come in," he said.

Sergeant Carson of the Harrisburg force was called to Ormiston's flat as soon as his identity was established.

Ormiston sat on the edge of a folding bed, and in front of him on an infirm table stood his typewriter with a sheet of manuscript in it.

"I have been writing for a living," he explained.

"Would you gentlemen mind showing me your credentials, so I may know whom I am talking to?"

He glanced at the cards and said he was satisfied.

"There are some few things I shall not care to discuss with you," he went on, "but on other subjects I shall be glad to give you whatever information I can."

Ormiston willingly put on his overcoat and went out with the reporter and the officer as their "guest."

"I really can't understand," he said, "why it has taken so long for you people to find me—or rather for somebody to find me, considering the great number who have been trying. For the fact is that I have made no particular effort to hide.

"I have not used any disguises—aside from assuming a different name. And I have not avoided public places.

"I have been occupying my present apartment for two months.

"Many of the cleverest detectives in the United States have stood close enough to me for a handshake and none of them recognized me. That happened at Atlantic City in July and August, when the American Detective Society was in convention at the Ambassador Hotel.

"I was living in Atlantic City then, and I used to stroll through the lobby every day mingling with the detectives. Not one gave me a second glance.

"I'll tell you another incident. On the day Hearst's newspapers printed the story about the finding of that trunk in New York I was riding in the smoker between New York and Harrisburg. Beside me sat a man who had a copy of the New York American with my picture on the front page. Well, he and I discussed the McPherson case for half an hour or so, but it never seemed to occur to him to compare the published photograph with me. In the last few months I have had many experiences like that."

Ormiston said he had not communicated with Aimee McPherson since he disappeared and would say no more until he consulted with his attorney, H. S. Martin, of Chicago.

Ormiston said that in selecting an attorney to represent him he simply used the classified telephone directory when he happened to be in Chicago and took the name at random. One purpose for which he wanted counsel was for indirect dealing with the editors of radio publications. He would send his manuscript to the lawyer, who would submit it to the magazines.

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Kenneth Ormiston will make a "last ditch" fight in Chicago against extradition to Los Angeles, Edward H. S. Martin, his attorney, announced today.

Disagreeing with reports that Ormiston planned to return voluntarily to Los Angeles from Harrisburg, Pa., Martin said he was coming of his own volition to Chicago, where the legal battle would begin.

cold, that the parade would move promptly at 11 o'clock. Marshal George W. Muse reiterated this and assures the public that the parade will move on time.

Nothing to Sell.

There is nothing to sell in the parade. Nobody is taking orders for goods of any kind, it is just an effort upon the part of the merchants of this city whose names are listed below, to create a better Christmas spirit in New Castle, to give the boys and girls a parade that will mark the Christmas time, and all they ask is that you come and see it.

In other cities where such parades have been held, the crowds watching it have been enormous. In Cleveland, O., last year it was estimated that 275,000 people were down town to witness it, and while New Castle cannot turn out such a crowd, it will turn out just as large a crowd in proportion to the population.

SENATE INQUIRY BOARD SWAMPED

were indications it would call a halt on new investigations. This report is of unusual importance because it undoubtedly will be used as the basis of contests to unseat Senators-elect Frank L. Smith (R) of Illinois and William S. Vare (R) of Pennsylvania.

Many Face Contempt

The committee also must decide whether to press contempt proceedings against a number of recalcitrant witnesses, who refused to testify at the hearings. Those facing contempt citations include Samuel Insull, the multimillionaire utility magnate of Chicago, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, of Chicago, Magistrate Frank X. O'Connor, of Philadelphia, and Thomas W. Cunningham, Clerk of the Philadelphia Quarter Sessions Court. If the committee approves the move, the senate will be asked to vote them in contempt for which they will be prosecuted in the Federal courts here.

Senator Reed (D) of Missouri, chairman of the committee, declared today he would seek this punishment for the recalcitrant witnesses.

"It is my opinion that they will be cited to the senate for contempt," said Reed. "We might just as well find out now at later whether the senate has any legal right to investigate senatorial primaries."

Seeks Decision

While the requests for new inquiries in Pennsylvania and Maine are the most important before the committee, a decision probably will also be asked on appeals from political groups in Ohio and Massachusetts for an investigation of the Senatorial campaigns in those states. The committee cannot take cognizance of the charges against Senator Tyson (D) of Tennessee, because he was elected in the 1924 campaign.

The special investigation by the senate elections committee into the bribery charges raised against Senator Arthur R. Gould (R) of Maine meanwhile was marking time until the subcommittee convenes on Monday.

There were indications today that the committee would not go deeply into the charges but rather base its report on a decision that the senate has no right to inquire into a candidate's early private life, when the facts have been known to his electorate. Such decision would dismiss all proceedings against Gould.

A REASONABLE COST

A reasonable cost means a price that is fair to both seller and purchaser, yielding a just and fair profit to the seller, and giving full value to the purchaser. None of us want something for less than its value, neither do we want to pay more than it is worth.

Fair treatment is all that is demanded—the simple application of the Golden Rule. The promise of a cut-rate price or less cost than the real value, is looked upon by the public with doubt, and their skepticism is well founded. The reliability of the organization and their reputation for fair and honorable treatment—these are the guarantees that the public demands.

A reasonable cost to our patrons was a policy that was adopted in the organization of our business in 1895. Its application has stood the test and it is one of the policies that have developed the reputation that we now enjoy. Its application will continue, and is your assurance of a just and fair treatment in every service rendered.

OVERLOADING THE ETHER

MAN can outdo nature nearly every time and often when he doesn't choose so to do. If he hasn't already created by his own efforts a condition more distressing than static itself to the nation's radio users, he is well on his way toward that achievement.

The overlapping of the wave lengths of the rapidly increasing number of broadcasting stations makes the rural fourteen-party-line telephone a marvel of unimpeded communication.

Radio engineers have not yet invented an apparatus for confining a radio wave strictly to its own wave length so the multiplicity of broadcasting stations and the duplication of wave lengths make absolute radio selectivity impossible even in the most costly receiving set. New stations opening up and little stations jumping to higher power interfere with the programs of other stations once kept separate by distance and difference in power.

Radio fans can still get an evening's entertainment if they pick their programs carefully, but without any care at all they can find points on the dial which produce a scramble of two or more programs caused by congestion of the ether waves.

Why broadcasting stations deliberately ruin their own programs as well as those of other stations is beyond human comprehension, unless it is some new form of "unfair competition" of which the public had supposed Roosevelt of the "big stick" and the other trust-busters had rid the country long ago. If the broadcasting stations want government control of their business let them continue to pirate the ether waves.

GERMANY AND THE LEAGUE

THE meeting of the League of Nations council which has just convened at Geneva is unique in at least one particular. It is the first at which Germany stands face to face as an equal with the other nations and not in the position of culprit at the bar.

The fact that Foreign Minister Stresemann, of Germany, feels that it is up to him to make some sort of a "killing" at Geneva in order to gain support at home for his foreign policy carries with it a threat of disturbances which is contemplated not without a measure of uneasiness by the by the British and French ministers.

Stresemann is particularly anxious to have the interallied commission of military control withdrawn from Germany and its general functions transferred to the league. Should those functions be transferred it would mean that thereafter Germany herself would have a voice in the control of her own armaments which in some instances might amount to a veto.

Perhaps the German foreign minister is only building political fences for himself, but France and England may see the plan in the light of a move on the part of Germany to become once more the master of her own armament. Under present European conditions the possibility is very remote that Germany, with her one vote in the league, would obtain more armament concessions from the league council than she has from the interallied commission of military control.

An American's view of the question before the league is not that Germany should be permitted to increase her military strength but that other nations carrying chips on their shoulders should be induced to reduce their armaments.

SPORTS AS A SAFETY VALVE

PARENTS, teachers and others charged with the training of boys and young men will do well to consider the value of athletic training as an antidote to criminal tendencies.

All know that the normal lad is overflowing with energy, which must be directed into beneficial channels if it is not to run wild and damage both the boys and the community. Boys actively interested in sports are not so likely to become involved in the lazy habit of loafing which so often leads to crime and other forms of juvenile deliquency.

Scholastic athletics were not conceived primarily as a means of keeping this energy so trained that boys would have no time or inclination for getting into trouble, but they have obtained that result. The Y. M. C. A. with its gymnasium and pool, the Boy Scouts and other organizations working among boys all have this very object in view.

That athletics can be made a safety-valve for the excess energy of youth is further demonstrated by a New York police survey, showing that the majority of criminals under 20 years old never have had the advantages of athletic training, and by the effective use made of sports in reformatories for boys.

A lady we know pretty well who lives on the New Wilmington road was talking to a little guy about Santa Claws when she got the shock of her young life when he came back at her with "Baloney on Santy Claws."

Anyhow we noticed what few horses there were on the slippery streets they got along far better than the autos did.

In New York state after a man is convicted of some crime a few times he is adjudged a hibitual criminal and sent to prison for life. They don't let 'em run around until they commit some crime that would send them up for life.

Our idea about that bozo who is making it his business to peep in windows at night and scaring women and children—and also men by the way—takes a mighty big chance as some one is liable to plink him from most any direction.

As we go to press they haven't yet found the man who a billboard persuaded to buy something.

President Coolidge in his message suggested better pay and shorter hours but there is one class that hardly works any hours any more at all and get a lot of money for what they do not do. He doesn't mean those birds who are in the large minority but he does mean the millions who have to pay the few the high prices and have to work long hours at low pay. He means the ones that are not getting what is due them. The farmers for instance.

We notice items where some chaps shot buck deer with so many points. We would like to have that point stuff explained to us. Does the greater number of points make the better deer. It's great to be ignorant.

Quite a few are trying to get their Christmas hootch early so they will not be disappointed at the last minute.

Quite a few people expect to see the reindeer on Friday in this city and some of them think a reindeer is about ten feet high. This is not correct. A reindeer is not very large and is not as big as we even thought it is. It is about as big as a pony.

People who swear may not have a very large vocabulary. This is said to be the reason why some people cuss because they do not have other words to express themselves by. However every cusser sure knows all the cuss words.

If that young lady who is suing a man for breach of promise in Pittsburgh does get any of his millions she will have to go to some foreign land to live down her disgrace and the money will be more than earned. Some people would be ashamed to tell what they would do for money but those gold diggers seem to float over telling it.

Just as the sheriff of Herrin, Ills. stepped out of his office after serving four tumultuous years he was arrested for shooting a man in 1924. It looks as if the sheriff is now being prosecuted for doing his duty.

A bill will be introduced into the next Pennsylvania legislature which will provide a law that will compel those who seek to be barbers to go through a thorough examination in every way and also provide for the inspection of barber shops. Of course they will not want the prohibition officers to do the inspecting. It will be some stunt to be a barber if the law goes through. Now all one has to know is how to shave and cut hair.

That ought to be impressed so strongly on the minds of the youngsters as something to constantly think about to be prepared against making a fiasco such as happened this year. Perhaps the wisdom of the ages will be of benefit to the future generations.

There ought to be a lot of deers for hunting next season when the hunting time comes round. Reports this year are that the deers were shy and hard to shoot. The supply is plentiful but the kills have been few. Perhaps there are so many hunters in the woods that the deers are scared to visit their usual haunts and stay in the preserves.

President Coolidge surely struck a popular chord when he admonished congress that more laws were not needed and to leave well enough alone, except for some changes that time and experience has shown are needed. We have long though that there are plenty of laws in the country and a vacation of the law makers wouldn't do any harm. We still think it, and seriously, and believe that a codification of the laws and the elimination of the conflicting ones and the necessary ones, would be of benefit.

Our own paper reports that a peeper is busy at work up on the East Side in the vicinity of Harrison street. We can't see why any man in his ordinary horse sense wants to take a chance of being plugged or picked up by the cops for peeping when there is so much to see on the streets and no danger involved.

Lucy Gray Died.
Also the World Court.
The Message.
It's Simple and Clear.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1926, by N. Y. American, Inc.

In the president's message there isn't a word about the world court. That's as dead, in the United States, as little Lucy Gray after she started on her trip with the lantern.

The president's mind is on the farmers. He wants Muscle Shoals developed to produce cheap fertilizer, and the federal agricultural agencies made stronger and wider.

Gentlemen planning to run for president on a wet Democratic ticket will be met by the president more than half way, although he doesn't mention them, or the presidency. He intends to enforce prohibition legislation, and favors adequate financing of enforcement.

Warned by our recent coal troubles and by England's industrial strike calamity, the president wants legislation that will put our coal supply beyond the reach of owners' and workers' fights.

The president wants adequate military and naval preparedness. Every body knows that an adequate air fleet is included in his program. Pray that the country may have such a fleet in the air, not merely on paper.

The country has more money, at least two hundred and fifty millions more, than it needs. The president wants congress to spend that, refunding it, which would seem to be the honest thing, to taxpayers from whom it was taken, under the impression that the government would need it or use it to reduce the public debt.

The president wants congress to appropriate, at one session, enough money to last two years. This would allow congressmen to think about legislation instead of about money at least half the time. Congress won't like that. Money is the biggest club that a legislator can swing.

About prohibition, the president says, "Failure to support the constitution and obey the law ought not to be tolerated by public opinion." He is right, but it is tolerated.

The public can do anything it chooses with its votes. If it wants a change it ought to vote for it.

The president doesn't intend to have the United States thrown open to foreign competition with American business men, manufacturers and workers.

He shows that 65 per cent of our imports taxed are agricultural products that do not come from Europe.

This settles the suggestion that our cruel tariff is keeping Europe from getting on its feet.

Anyhow, President Coolidge, born in Vermont, raised in Massachusetts, and moved to Washington, realizes that he is paid to worry about this country, letting those that draw salaries in Europe worry about that part of the world.

Outside of some things that need doing, the president thinks this country is doing pretty well, and it is.

Everybody will be glad to hear that President Coolidge endorses the program for improving rivers, canals and other waterways in the United States.

The so-called Hoover program is evidently a Coolidge-Hoover program.

A six-year-old boy in England, otherwise normal, writes backward and cannot write any other way. This interests and amazes everybody. What ought to amaze us is that there are on earth 1,600,000,000 human beings, all of whom can be taught to write forward, walk up and downstairs, run an automobile, etc.

The 1,600,000,000 can also be taught to live on the equator with a temperature of 120 above and at the north pole with 60 degrees below zero. This is an adaptable race.

Joseph S. Donovan knew exactly what he wanted when he went to work in a carpet factory for $1.50 a week. While he was working in the shop he said he would make a million by the time he was forty-five and retire.

Last September, not yet forty-four, he had his million and retired as he promised. Now he is dead.

The best thing, when you have made your first million is to go on and make your second. It isn't the money, but the fact that you are working which enables others to find employment and independence.

The right kind of American begins his rest when the undertaker gets him. That is a long and an early enough rest for anybody.

In Day's News

When the new Canadian Parliament assembles today it is expected that the first business of the House of Commons will be to reelect Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux to the Speakership. Few men in Canadian public life are more widely and favorably known than the eminent and eloquent French-Canadian from Gaspe. For thirty years he has seen almost continuous service in the House of Commons. Aside from his parliamentary service he has filled several cabinet positions and has represented the Dominion on several important missions abroad. Mr. Lemieux is a native of Montreal and has just passed his sixtieth birthday. Before his entry into public life he had attained high standing in the legal profession.

If you want t' git a flapper t' look around jest speak of a runner-up, or hole in one. "Who remembers when we could git a few folks t'gether without feedin' 'em?" asked Mrs. Em Moots this mornin', as she bought some luncheon bridge liver.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE CAMPAIGN

In the late campaign we noticed the address of Mr. Hoover on the advantages and importance of keeping the Republicans in power, and there were addresses by other people, particularly Governor Smith, about the necessity of having the Democrats administer our affairs.

From time to time, men of ability, Elihu Root and others, express their opinions about the glorious old party. Mr. Wilson at one time urged the country to return the Democrats, as he wanted a powerful party of his own to back him in his policies.

The ordinary man is at a loss to understand this. It is one of the mysteries hidden in the bosom of providence how men who call themselves intelligent can think that it makes any difference whether the country is governed by Democrats or Republicans.

The Bishop of London was unable to see what the difference was between the Republican and Democratic parties.

Occasionally they get together and make platforms. A careful reading of these platforms shows that they meticulously straddle all important issues.

The one thing that they are in earnest about and anxious for is to have people vote for them. They want jobs and want them bad. They want everybody to get out and vote. They are continually urging people to exercise their franchise and calling people bad citizens who do not register or go to the polls. Perhaps they are right, although the poor citizen is at a loss to know what he should go to the polls for when he does not care a hang who is elected.

There is always a large number of absentee voters and these are laboriously belabored by all public speakers and writers.

However, there is something to be said for them, and if there ever comes a clean cut issue and parties are lined up one on one side and one on the other it might result in getting out a rather heavier vote than usual.

It is interesting to see a religious speaker tear his shirt over the importance of advancing Methodism or Presbyterianism or Roman Catholicism. We often wonder how men as intelligent as Montaigne or Michael Angelo or Francis Bacon should have been so earnest in their defense of the church. But the process by which a man reasons that his denomination is best seems to be about the same as that by which a man reasons that his party is best.

Perhaps the country will always be divided into two great parties, although those who are afflicted with the plague of thought often wonder what the two parties are about aside from the desire to hold office.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ONE AND NINE ARE TEN.

The class in arithmetic was reciting. It was very elementary arithmetic. The school was a country school. The school teacher knew nothing about farm life except what she had read in books, and seen from an automobile. She had never even visited the farm, having lived all her life in the city. This was the first position she had obtained since embarking upon the business of life. She was trying to give the class of youngsters some idea of subtraction, and she asked:

"Now, children, if there are ten sheep on one side of a wall, and one jumps over, how many sheep will be left?"

Then up piped a little tow headed daughter of a farmer:

"No sheep," teacher; "no sheep."

"Oh, oh," cried the city young woman reproachfully. "You are not so stupid as that! Think again. If there were ten sheep on one side of the wall, and one jumped over, nine sheep would be left. Don't you see that?"

"No! no! no!" persisted the child. "If one sheep jumped over all the other would jump after. My father keeps sheep."

Then, seeing the puzzled look on the teacher's face, the little towhead explained apologetically: "You know 'rithmetic, but I know sheep."

CHOICE

It all depends on the choice we make
And which of the roads we decide to take,
Though luck may follow or stay behind,
It isn't by luck that a man grows kind.
Chance may cost him a hard-fought game,
But a liar has only himself to blame.

Each of us says what his fame shall be,
Fashions the man which the world shall see.
He may blame his luck for the loss he meets,
But there's no excuse for the man who cheats,
We can all be fair under skies serene,
But it isn't by luck that a man stays clean.

The fame man wins and the friends he makes
Depend upon which of two roads he takes,
Wealth may be won by a wheel that's turned,
But honor is something which must be earned.
Chance may favor some shady plan,
But luck never fashioned a gentleman.

In countless ways are our nature tried,
And what we shall be we must a decide.
The world shall judge us false or true
By the men we are and the things we do.
We may gather from fortune what joys we can,
But it isn't by luck that man is man.

POEMS HOME — BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"Cynara" by Ernest Dowson.

Dowson belonged to that flaming group of young poets who astonished England in the eighteen-nineties. This famous poem alone would have made a name for him but fortunately he left us other songs which are piercingly lovely. This however he will live by. It will not perish, with much of the drift of that period.

Last night, ah yesternight, betwixt her lips and mine,
There fell thy shadow, Cynara! thy breath was shed
Upon my soul between the kisses and the wine;
And I was desolate and sick of an old passion,
Yea, I was desolate and bowed my head.
I have been faithful to thee, Cynara! in my fahion.

All night upon mine heart I felt her warm heart beat
Night-long within mine arms in love and sleep she lay;
Surely the kisses of her bought red mouth were sweet;
But I was desolate and sick of an old passion,
When I awoke and found the dawn was gray;
I have been faithful to thee, Cynara in my fashion.

I have forgot much, Cynara! gone with the wind,
Flung roses, roses riotously with the throng,
Dancing to put thy pale lost lilies out of mind;
But I was desolate and sick of an old passion,
Yea, all the time, because the dance was long;
I have been faithful to thee, Cynara! in my fashion.

I cried for madder music and for stronger wine,
But when the feast is finished and the lamps expire,
Then falls thy shadow, Cynara! the night is thine;
And I am desolate and sick of an old passion,
Yea, hungry for the lips of my desire;
I have been faithful to thee, Cynara in my fashion.

English Visitor At Westminster

Speaks At Chapel Services—Likes Conditions In United States

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 9.—Kenneth Lindsay of London, speaking in behalf of the League for Industrial Democracy with headquarters in New York City, has completed a two day visit to Westminster College, where he addressed two sessions of the student body on the general labor question.

Lindsay proved to be a very interesting personality. This is his third trip to the United States. He is a graduate of Oxford and four years ago, toured America as a member of the Oxford debating team.

The English visitor expressed himself as pleased with general labor conditions in the United States. He expressed the opinion that the United States will not suffer a general labor strike as did England recently because Americans are too happy; they are busy and contented with their present conditions of living.

When interviewed concerning his impressions of the American college and university in comparison with Oxford and Cambridge, he readily answered that he preferred the English system. It is his firm conviction that American students waste time. He believes that instead of a student going to class each day and being quizzed on an assignment of 15 or 20 pages and then being given a test at the end of the semester, the student would be further ahead if he were handed the textbook and told to outline the entire book within a few days. He believes that not only is as much if not more learned, but much time and effort is saved.

He first spoke to the students Tuesday evening. His second appearance was made at the chapel service Wednesday. His manner of speech and clear thought appealed to the students who listened to his discussion of labor questions with keen attentiveness.

Mellon Sees Continued Prosperity For United States In Coming Year

Secretary Of Treasury In Annual Report To President Discusses Notable Improvement Of 1926 In World Stability —Says National Income Justifies Congress In Allowing Big Reduction In Taxes—Makes Important Legislative Recommendations

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Continued prosperity for the United States in 1927 and further progress in the notable improvement made during the past year in restoration of world stability, was predicted today by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in his annual report to Congress.

Reaching a level never before attained, national income has so boosted governmental revenues that Congress will be justified in allowing a reduction of 30 per cent on taxes due in the first six months of 1927, equivalent to a 15 per cent reduction for the entire year, according to Mellon.

Approval was given by the Secretary to the plan of Prersident Coolidge to leave a greater part of the anticipated $383,000,000 1927 surplus in the hands of the taxpayer.

Mellon, however, expressed opposition to permanent tax reduction until further experience determines whether or not the 1926 tax law will provide sufficient revenue to operate the government in lean as well as prosperous years.

Other Recommendations

Other legislative recommendations follow:

(1) Provision for the extension of original 20-year charters of Federal Reserve banks which have less than eight years to run.

(2) Passage of the McFadden banking bill minus the Hull amendments.

(3) Provision for return of German alien property that will furnish adequate compensation to owners and complete compensation to owners and complete protection to American claimants.

(4) Amendment of the act creating the Farm Loan Bank system to remove fundamental weaknesses in administration of this governmental function.

(5) Enactment of laws establishing bureaus of prohibition and customs in the Treasury Department.

(6) Urges consideration to "other measures" affecting the enforcement of the national prohibition act which were introduced at the last session.

(7) Bill to provide means of replenishing nation's medicinal liquor supply and to adequately control this traffic.

Outstanding features of Mellon's report follow:

Business Situation

"It can be safely stated that the country has reached a level of national income not before exceeded," Mellon declared.

"The year 1926 brought no indication of an ebbing of this high tide, and prosperity is continuing. We have worked hard and we have progressed.

"A land boom in Florida seems to have subsided without serious injury.

"A bumper cotton crop has materially decreased the price of cotton but plans for withholding a portion of the crop and for its orderly marketing are already under way and the financing available.

"The textile industry, which has been unprofitable for the last few years, will have an opportunity for recovery in the low cost of cotton.

"In some parts of the country a surplus of farm lands, taken over by banks for loans, will have to be worked out.

"Bituminous coal mining, which has been depressed, shows improvement through foreign demand."

"The most notable improvement," Mellon continued, "has been the restoration of the railroads to their proper place. They are beginning to make up for losses following government control. Their credit is good and their efficiency of highest order."

Finances Excellent

Mellon referred to the financial structure of the federal government as "in excellent shape." The national debt is under $19,500,000,000, compared to $26,500,000,000 just after the war, government bonds over par, taxes yielding ample revenues and expenditures held without heavy increase.

"A gold basis for currency has been in successful operation in England for two years," he declares. "The Dawes plan has completed two full years of operation and its functioning is satisfactory.

"The finances of France, Italy and Belgium have improved and I look for further progress in the case of other nations."

Mellon said that in this country there has been some over building in particular lines, although he added that the demand continues for better living conditions and that the building industry is sound. The government's $165,000,000 building program and necessary road construction "should remove the fear of a slump in the industry," he said.

Increase in installment plan buying "within limits discloses nothing inherently unsound in this practice," according to the secretary.

"We are a creditor nation," Mellon said. "We are owed more than we owe. Objection has been raised to our foreign loans on the ground that they will be used to establish more effective competition against American industry and that they are not safe."

Taxation.

Mellon reiterated his objection to any change in the program of retiring the public debt, declaring that the present rate is not oppressive.

It does not seem probable that we can contemplate reduction in government expenditures for the next few years," he added. "We must turn to consideration of government receipts to determine to what extent, if at all, taxes can be reduced."

"We are now at a very high tide of prosperity," Mellon continued. "There is no reason to expect at this time a marked reaction, but before determining that permanent tax reduction can be had we must have reasonable assurance of a continued flow from the sources where our revenue is obtained.

"Federal government revenue comes almost entirely from sources which may fluctuate violently from year to year. A good year is reflected in increased income and a bad year will equally make itself felt in less government revenue."

Mellon gave this as an argument against permanent tax reduction at this congress, but said that the necessity for caution does not prevent a material credit to taxpayers the first half of 1927, or in the last half of a fiscal year for which adequate governmental revenue is assured.

Prohibition.

Mellon referred to the effects of the prohibition reorganization, under which the country was divided into districts and governmental effort concentrated on the big problem of enforcement, as "very gratifying."

Mellon reviewed operations of the prohibition service in the last year showing that smuggling and diversions of industrial alcohol, two principal sources of bootleg supply, have been partially plugged up. He referred to the operation of treaties with Great Britain and other countries as effective.

With the closing of these sources of supply it was anticipated by the treasury that moonshining would begin to flourish and that drastic steps probably would be necessary to combat this new problem.

"It has long been realized that the national prohibition law will be successfully enforced only when the law and its enforcement shall have met with the general approval," Mellon said. "The underlying thought therefore, in instructions to field forces is that the law must be so administered as to win popular approval."

Foreign Debts.

In the report is contained a large volume of correspondence between President Wilson and other American officials, and French and British governmental finance leaders for the evident edification of those who believe this country may be persuaded into a debt cancellation plan.

"From abroad has come again the suggestion that the indebtedness of the nations of Europe between themselves and with the United States should be canceled or should be pooled and a general joint settlement take place," Mellon said.

"This suggestion has been presented in various forms, but upon analysis its essential basis seems to be a belief that the advances of the United States during the war were in the nature of subsidies and were therefore not loans at all.

"The position of the debt commission that the advances were loans to be repaid has been the consistent policy of the United States from the first. Until the war ended no intimation was made that these advances were subsidies."

Mellon said that foreign debts of the principal amount of $9,811,094,000, out of an original holding by this government of $10,338,000,000 have been funded. The French pact remains the only important debt yet unsettled or unratified.

It is a car of custom quality throughout—low-swung gleaming body, finished in duotone lacquers—and the lines and lure of a custom creation. It has every luxury of custom appointment—restful, form-fitting seats, fine mohair upholstery, broadlace trim, Butler finish hardware, silk shades and silk toggle grips in a symphony of blended colors.

Its price—$1785—is the lowest ever placed on a four-door Big Six enclosed car. Studebaker's One-Profit facilities alone make possible this outstanding value. Unequaled value has enabled the Studebaker Big Six to outsell every other car in the world of equal or greater rated horsepower.

ARNOLD, Pa., Dec. 9.—One man is dead, another is believed to be dying and a third is in a serious condition as a result of their automobile being struck by the Buffalo Express at Graye street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad here last night.

The dead man was Waldo Myers, 31, of New Kensington. E. Wolf, 55, of Arnold, is suffering from a fracture at the base of the skull, fracture of the right arm, internal injuries and bruises. He is not expected to survive, hospital attaches said. The three were returning from a hunting trip, and were going to the Wolf home, less than a block away, when the accident occurred. A watchman at the crossing said that he signaled the machine to stop, but the driver, believed to be McBryar, continued across the railroad and the express struck the automobile.

Royal Welsh Ladies To Present Program

Consistory To Have Concert On December 14 In New Cathedral

Tuesday evening, December 14, the Royal Welsh Ladies Choir, said to be the best musical organization turned out of Wales in the past five years, will be in New Castle, to sing in the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

The concert is being promoted by the Service Division of the Cathedral Association, and if the advance notices for this group of Welsh young women mean anything, the crowd should be good.

In all there are fifteen singers in the Welsh Ladies Choir, all of them soloists, but blended together in this choir in a skillful way. They are under the direction of Madame Gronow, and in their tour of the United States thus far have made a wonderful impression.

The Service Division men have tickets out for the concert, ranging in price from $1.50 on the first floor to 95 cents on the first balcony and 75 cents in the second balcony.

John E. Elliott is the head of the Service Division and has charge of the distribution of tickets.

Football Banquet Occurs This Evening

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 9.—"Yea, Westminster!" This is the welcome cry that will be heard Thursday evening when Westminster's annual football banquet is held in the dining hall of the Hillside dormitory. Dinner is to be served at 7:30.

With members of the grid squad, of the athletic council, of the faculty, of the general alumni body and representatives of the press, on hand, the banquet promises to be a "hum-dinger". Not that Westminsterites are attaching any glamor to the past season but they are looking forward to another year with a keen spirit of optimism prevailing.

Attorney Roy Neville of Sharon, will preside. He will introduce President [illegible] as toastmaster. Numerous peppy speeches are

Sabbath School Night Observed At M. E. Revivals

Wednesday, Sabbath school night was observed at the Revival services in the Mahoning Methodist church. Sabbath school classes marched into the church and sat together. Also a delegation of members of the Madison avenue Christian church attended in body and marched into the church led by Rev. W. W. Sniff, pastor of the Christian church. There was a large audience present the auditorium and balcony well filled.

Rev. Harry Maitland the evangelist, took his text from James 3 and 5. "Behold how great a matter a little fire is kindled." Fire and Sin. That fire is the result of friction, that fire like sin is a fact. That we can learn more about fire by putting our fingers into it than by studying theories for six months. That concealed fire, suddenly breaks forth, but fire like sin can be very small, but let alone soon gets beyond control. Fire like sin destroys. Jesus Christ is the answer to sin.

The Sabbath school night being such a great success it was decided they would have another next Wednesday evening in the church. This is the second week of these revivals. These special meetings will also continue next week. Services each evening at 7:30, with the exception of Saturday evenings.

Well Known Jewel Robber Arrested In New York City

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Joseph Fried, known to police as the famous "butler jewel robber," was arrested today in connection with the sensational robbery of a Washington society matron. He is also suspected of complicity in a number of recent New York jewel robberies and is said to have served a number of terms in prison.

Replacement Line Placed Across River

Old Pipe Line Across Shenango River Is Replaced By New Line

A replacement gas main has been constructed across the Shenango river at the West Washington street bridge according to Joseph Campbell, manager of the Manufacturers Light and Heat company.

The replacement was necessitated by leakage in the old pipe.

According to Campbell the line which it was expected would cause difficulty to lay across the river was accomplished easier than anticipated.

The pipe was connected and attached to a line. A gasoline engine on the east side of the river furnished the dragging power and the work was accomplished.

Stenographers Speeded By Perrier

PARIS Dec. 9. — Leon Perrier, Minister of the Colonies, who holds the French parliamentary speed talking record of 190 words a minute, is the terror of stenographers. Louis Marin, Minister of Pensions, runs him close with 185, followed by M. Albert Sarraut, the young and active Minister of the Interior with 180.

Premier Poincare, whose delivery is smooth and even, does about 160. As to Aristide Briand, whose orations are likened to cello solos, his art is made up of fine shades and parentheses, and he never exceeds 145 to 150 words to the minute.

Oldest Deer Hunters Of State Are Again In Woods With Gun

(International News Service)

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Dec. 9.—Believed to be the oldest deer hunter in Pennsylvania, possibly the oldest in the country, John D. Decker, 90-year-old jury commissioner of Center county, is again at his famous sport and expects to bring down as many deer as "the next one".

Decker lives in the foothills of the Seven Mountains and deer graze on his small farm as much as his stock during the summer months. All he can do, he declared, it to keep the animals from eating him out of house and home. Decker Valley as the place is called is widely known to hunters as a deer refuge and several hunting clubs have their camps on the valley.

Running a close second to Decker as an old hunter and having killed deer since he was "knee high to a grasshopper", is David Robb of Howard, Pa. Robb has already brought down 109 deer and several bears. Robb, who is 89 years of age, says he will bring down his 110th animal this year. Robb's ancestors have always been keen on hunting and one of them brought down three deer without moving in his tracks with an old style muzzle loading gun, before the present deer law was passed allowing only one deer to a hunter.

As the story goes, told by old hunters, the Robb of long ago saw a deer raise up behind a log. He took careful aim, fired. When the smoke cleared, imagine Robb's surprise, the deer was still standing there. He re-loaded hastily, took careful aim, fired again. Again when the wind blew the smoke away there stood the deer. Dumfounded, he almost thought he was suffering from "buck fever" and being a dead shot he could hardly believe his eeys. However, he pushed home another load into the muzzle loader and fired again. This time when he looked there was no deer in sight. Robb hastened to the old log. He could hardly believe his eyes, three dead deer were lying behind the log with a bullet through their hearts. Hunters believe that the three animals bedded behind the rock for the night and the first deer had arisen just as Robb drew within gunshot. He killed it and another showed itself in the same position but failed to "wind" the hunter and he was shot through the heart, the third one showed himself and was brought down.

RHEUMATISM!

What is it—anyway?

THAT awful agony of swollen joints and inflamed muscles—that miserable pain and torturous suffering, we call rheumatism—what is it?

Here's what it is: It is the result of waste products and impurities in the blood! Impurities that get the upper hand because the system is starving for want of healthy, rich, red blood!

But you just cleanse your blood and build up the red-blood-cells and watch the rheumatism vanish! Why, S. S. S. will aid Nature put so many millions of red-blood-cells in your system that the impurities that cause your rheumatism are driven out—they can't stand pure, healthy blood.

S.S.S. conquers rheumatism! The rich, red, fighting blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build brings ease and comfort to every sore, swollen tissue in your body.

And this great S. S. S. goes right on helping Nature build more and more red cells until your whole body is tingling with life and vibrating with vim, vigor and vitality. You feel like yourself again.

Here And There Over The State

EASTON—Only two Boy Scouts in Northampton county won star scout badges at the fall court of honor, they were Edgar Smickle of Nazareth and Edwin Kortz, of Bangor. Each received five merit badges.

LANCASTER—Women will be admitted to post graduate courses at Franklin and Marshall College here with the opening of the term next September, according to action taken by the board of trustees at a mid-winter meeting. Under the terms of the charter the college may give advance degrees to women, but this privilege has not been used previously.

GETTYSBURG—Work is underway here for the further beautifying of the National Cemetery. The War Department has ordered a number of the semi-circular drives torn up for the purpose of converting this ground into lawn to correspond with the remainder of the plot.

COURTNEY—When Sam Piccolo stepped from a train which brought him from work he noticed his home was in ruins from a fire. He didn't mind the loss of the house and furniture, but the loss of his winter supply of wine caused him to break into tears. "House not mine," Piccolo asserted, "furniture not much; my wine—Oh-h-h!"

SOUDERTOWN—Clayton K. Gotwals, 38, recently promoted to the head of the Union National Bank here is believed to be one of the youngest bank presidents in the country. Gotwals worked up from the position of assistant cashier to his present position.

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J.—The 150-foot smoke stack of the Standard Silk Company, a landmark here for years, has given way to the march of progress. With a battery of cameras recording its passing it was dynamited recently.

EBENSBURG—Ralph Edmiston, of Blandburg, near here, has been withdrawn from the ranks of the 1926 deer hunters by order of the county court. He pleaded guilty to killing a fawn deer recently and was sentenced to serve 515 days in jail. Five charges were filed against him.

MOUNT CARMEL—Harry Geist Post of the American Legion here has taken time by the forelock in preparing for the state convention at York in September, 1927. It has organized a drum and bugle corps of 100 men and has formed an "One to York" club whose members are paying dues each week to finance the caravan to the state convention city next fall.

BANGOR—Twelve years of unsuccessful deer hunting, Russell Buzzard, of this city, went forth this season, his thirteenth, with the expectation that this would be one similar to the rest. He had not been in the Pocono Mountains more than two hours on December 1, when he brought down his deer. Buzzard now has faith in the number "thirteen," he said.

Modern Woodmen File State Appeal

To Battle Decree Of State Insurance Commissioner Refusing License In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 9—The Modern Woodmen of America, national fraternal insurance organization, barred from doing business in Pennsylvania by order of Einar Barfod, state insurance commissioner, have filed an appeal in the Dauphin county court.

Under the state insurance laws the appeal will act as a supersedeas staying the insurance commissioner's order until the court hands down a decision on the appeal.

The court gave Barfod 10 days in which to show cause why the case should not be reviewed and why the commissioner's order should not be reversed.

George Ross Hull, counsel for the appellant, denied Barfod's allegation that the association is 55 per cent insolvent and that the insurance laws give the commissioner the power to revoke its license for the reasons given by him.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Youngsters may not mind whether it is spelled "Xmas" or "Christmas" as long as Santa Claus makes annual visit with toys and candies, but a campaign is to be started to eliminate the use of "Xmas," as being "contrary and alien to the reverence" due the word.

Congressman Swick To Be Guest Of Honor

Dr. J. Howard Swick, congressman-elect in the Beaver, Butler and Lawrence county district, will make his first public appearance since his recent election as a guest of honor at the Veterans of Foreign Wars booster banquet which will be held at the Fountain Inn. It will be an event of Thursday evening, Dec. 16, 1926, and will be given under the auspices of Corporal Harry L. McBride, No. 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars, this city.

Owing to the limited seating capacity, it has become necessary for the Veterans of Foreign Wars to make it an invitation affair, endeavoring to have present outstanding representatives of the official, business and industrial life of the city, as well as veteran organizations.

Corporal McBride Post is rapidly taking its place among the outstanding civic organizations of the city, having undertaken a program of civic work which calls for considerable effort on the part of its members. The post is taking this opportunity of acquainting those who have borne the burden of civic enterprise in the past of its intention to assist them in boosting New Castle.

It is exceptionally fitting that Congressman Swick should appear for the first time as the guest of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, as he also served for a period of 12 months as a member of the American Expeditionary forces in France and Germany during the World War.

He is also representing the district as a manufacturer, banker and professional man, being engaged in all of these lines of endeavor, and as was declared by his supporters during his recent campaign, has his "hand on the pulse of the district."

Invitations for the banquet are being mailed today and there is little doubt that the banquet room of the Fountain Inn will be taxed to accommodate those who wish to attend.

Police Get Reports Of Two Accidents

Dr. J. A. Meehan of 225 East North street, reported Wednesday, that he was driving north on Beaver street, following a street car which stopped at North street. The car started up again, so did Dr. Meehan. Then the street car stopped suddenly and Dr. Meehan was unable to get his machine stopped in time and went past the open door of the car.

R. L. Coulter of 919 Harrison street, reported Wednesday that he was driving north on North Jefferson street at Grant street, when the car of J. F. Clark of Youngstown, O., turned out of Grant street and the machines came together. Some damage was done.

Norman Town Eyes Bath Room Askance

PARIS, Dec. 9.—Mortain a little town in Normandy of 1,605 population has a bathroom on its hands and doesn't know what to do with it. This modern convenience the only one in town is in the subprefecture which parliament recently discontinued along with many others as part of its economy plan. It was installed at the department's expense and the Councilor General of the district now complains to the perfect that the bathroom has become a useless burden.

Explaining that the council last year approved and appropriated money for a bathroom he says: "Now the bathroom is ready, the bathtub has been installed and the faucets are working but the sub-prefecture has been abolished. Who will reimburse us for these expenses which are as sumptuary as they are useless? For in our part of the country only the sub-perfect can take a bath at home and now we have none."

Says Charity Fund Solicitation Has Not Been Given

Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church asked The News today to state that it had been brought to his attention that solicitations were being made in New Castle in the name of St. Paul's Lutheran congregation for some orphan's home.

The church has nothing to do with any such public solicitation, he said. While the church supports orphan's homes, the support is given through the regular church channels and no public solicitation is made.

St. Paul's church of New Castle has authorized no one to solicit any funds for charity purposes, he said, and in any case where such is done the matter should be reported to the police or to himself, Rev. Stump said. His address is 301 North Jefferson street.

Track Walker Is Found Murdered

WARREN, Pa., Dec. 9.—His skull crushed by blows from an axe, and with a knife wound in his back, the body of John Castagino, 42, a track walker for the Pennsylvania Railroad, was found here early today after an all night search by a party led by his five sons. A small axe was found near the body.

Castagino left home early Wednesday morning, and when he failed to return his sons headed a searching party. The body apparently had been dragged from the main thoroughfare to a secluded spot fifteen feet away.

Coroner E. C. Lowry and county police began an investigation.

King Ferdinand's Condition Worse

By J. N. ATKINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BUCHAREST, Dec. 9. — King Ferdinand's condition has taken a more serious turn. It is stated today that it may be necessary to perform a third operation on the king. Dr. Hartmann, who had planned to leave for Paris after the second operation yesterday, has deferred his departure.

The king does not realize how serious his condition is, but members of his family have been advised that he may take a critical turn at any moment.

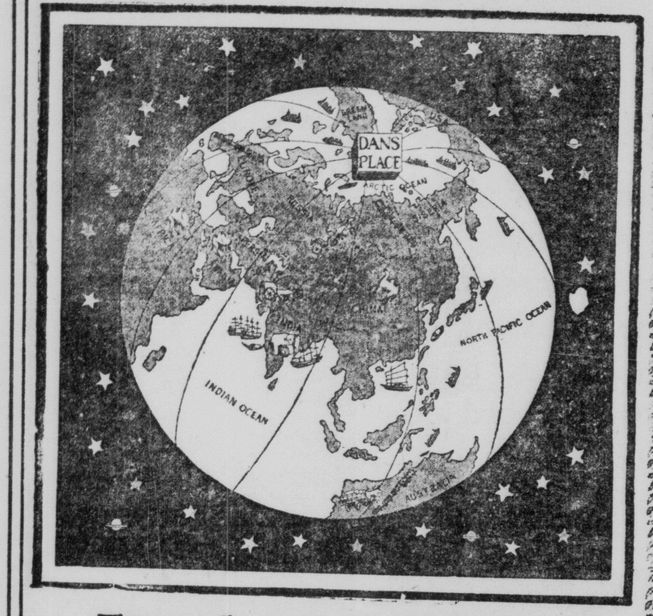
It's Christmas The World Over And At Dans Place In Particular



Translated Extracts of Christmas Celebrations & Customs of Foreign Peoples

ITALY

Christmas in Italy begins with Christmas Eve. During the twenty-four hours before Christmas Eve, there is fasting, because the season is a religious one. At twilight candles are lighted around the presicip (a miniature representation of the birthplace of Christ, showing the Holy family—Joseph, Mary and Jesus in the manger) and the children recite poems before it. Then follows the dinner, which always includes some kind of fish.

Then comes the drawing of presents from the Urn of Fate. The urn is placed in a certain room and all of the gifts placed in it, just as ours are placed on a Christmas tree. One by one, the children go to it and reach in for a gift. If the one a child takes out has his name on it, he may keep it, if not, he puts it back and tries again. Everyone has a gift there.

GERMANY

In Germany no home, from palace to hovel, is without the Christmas tree. It is an essential part of Christmas and to the Germans Christmas would not be Christmas without it. The Market places, all the squares, and many of the streets are filled with evergreens weeks before Christmas. The Germans make little cakes of various shapes to hang upon the tree. On Christmas Eve the children gather around the tree singing Christmas carols after which their father tells them the story of the baby, who was born so many years ago in Bethlehem, the Christ-child, whose birthday we celebrate.

Under their Christmas trees they place a small manger cradle with a figure in it representing the Christ-child.

POLAND

The approach of Christmas is always heralded a few weeks beforehand by visits from the Monks, who bring small packages of wafers of "opalatki" which have been blessed by the priest. The Poles also send these wafers in letters to their friends much as Christmas cards are sent here.

Christmas Eve feast is, perhaps, the greatest occasion of the year. Before the cloth is laid the table is covered with a layer of hay or straw, a symbol of Christ's lowly birth. The feast is very elaborate.

Christmas Eve belongs to the family; and relatives all gather from great distances to the home of the eldest member of the family. When the first star appears, the entire family breaks with each other, exchanging good wishes. The master and mistress then go to the servants quarters to divide the wafers there, and exchange more good wishes. The servants have the rest of the evening to themselves. They spend it singing Christmas carols, known as "Kolendy". Sometimes the peasants will come to gather the hay and straw from under the cloth and distribute it among the cattle, as there is a popular belief that this straw possesses a charm against evil. Early on Christmas morning the peasants dress themselves up to represent Herod and other Biblical characters, or birds, or animals, and go from house to house, the leader carrying an immense glittering star, to represent the star of Bethlehem. This custom is known as Gurazda, the star.

RUSSIA

Roadrawlau and Rozestwom

Christmas holidays in Russia begins at sunset on Christmas Eve and lasts for twelve days. At sunset, the children and older people too, go about the town singing carols under the windows of the nobles. At the head of their procession is carried a pole, on the top of which is a bright "Star of Bethlehem". Showers of coins are thrown the singers from the windows.

After the carols, everyone dresses up as sheep, oxen or cattle in memory of the Christ-child's manager. In some parts of Russia, supper is served on tables covered with straw.

"Mumming" is a favorite frolic in country places. "Mummers" are people disguised as bears, goats, clowns, beggars and thieves. They wear masks and go about to the homes where parties of young people are gathered. The bears and goats dance together. The clowns tell stories and recite verses and the blind beggars sing.

On Christmas or "Wellikildonj" the people do not say, "Merry Christmas" as we do, they say "Greetings for the Lord's Birth", or "God Be With You". At dinner the people eat rice with raisins, blessed at the church. Every servant receives a useful gift, and the peasants generally give embroidery to the rich people who also give them gifts.

Santa Claus does not go to Russia. An old woman named Babouska takes his place and carries toys to the children.

FRANCE

"Bon Noel"

Yule-tide in France begins on St. Barbar's Day, December 4th when it is customary to plant grain in little dishes of earth. If the grain comes up and flourishes by Christmas it means that the crops will be abundant.

For several days previous to Christmas the children go into the woods and fields to gather holly and bright berries. With these they decorate the Holy Manger.

On Christmas Eve, the Yule-log is lighted, and also the candles on the Holy Manger. During this ceremony, the children sing carols and songs of praise—the famous Noels of France. The shops are all ablaze with light, and huge Christmas trees are often placed in the streets loaded with gifts for the poor children.

ENGLAND

"Yule-Tide"

No country has entered more heartily into Yule-tide observance than England. Christmas was celebrated with a great deal of splendor in early Saxon times, but in the 15th and 16th centuries the Yule-tide celebration reached its height.

At that time, it was considered unlucky to have holly brought into the house before Christmas Eve, so all through the week parties of children and young people went out to the woods to gather Christmas greens, and on Christmas Eve, they would bring them in and decorate the halls. The men of the family would roll in a huge Yule-log while the people would sing a song of welcome. Then each member of the family would in turn sit upon the log, salute it, so hoping for good luck through the year.

The boar's head held the principal place of honor at the dinner. So during September and October, the hunting season, men with boar-hounds to help them would try to track these animals. The men attacked the boar with spears and there was always a severe fight before the boar could be captured. The harder the fight to capture the boar the louder the praise sung in his honor when his head was brought into the hall. This head was carried in on an immense dish by one of the serving men. Before the man came trumpeters and mummers. The father laid his hand on the dish containing the boar's head and swore to be faithful to his family.

In 1846 Sir Henry Cole is said to have originated the idea of sending Christmas cards to his friends. Only about one thousand were sold the first year, but in a few years, the custom became more general, and it has now spread to the other countries.

FALL-DOHENY CASE NEAR END

Important Testimony In Case Is Practically All Presented To Jury

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Unless the defense springs a surprise and puts one of the defendants on the witness stand, the Fall-Doheny conspiracy case is at a close insofar as important testimony is concerned.

Frank J. Hogan, chief defense counsel, declined to say whether E. L. Doheny, the oil magnate, and his son will submit themselves to cross-examination about the naval oil lease deal and the $100,000 transaction between Doheny and former secretary of the interior Albert S. Fall.

A number of additional character witnesses were scheduled to take the stand today and tell their estimate of Doheny as a citizen and a patriot. Also, several admirals have been subpoenaed for technical testimony, as has J. C. Anderson, president of the Pan American Company.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur still remains an unsolved factor in the case. He is under subpoena to produce the "war scare" report of 1921 which the defense contends prompted Doheny, to enter into the oil contracts. Whether Hogan will actually call him, now that the jury has gotten the gist of the report from other witnesses, is problematical.

Doheny, who is suffering from a badly infected arm, appears to be a sick man. All during yesterday's session, he held a handkerchief to his face and seemed to be bearing up with difficulty.

The Beauty of My Teeth

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I am always smiling, so countless women consider my glistening teeth the chief item in my beauty.

I have consulted on teeth, as on everything else, the greatest experts I could find. They advised me to brush my teeth with Quindent twice a day.

Quindent is a recent development. Some 59 able experts collaborated on it. It has 16 ingredients, and is made to combine all the major helps in one.

It contains cleansers and polishers of the highest order. Then antacids, antiseptics, Iodides and deodorants. They have aimed to combine in Quindent all the best helps known to science.

Quindent is not an Edna Wallace Hopper product. It is made by Quindent Laboratories, and sold by druggists everywhere. But the makers supply me with samples, and I gladly mail a ten-day tube to anyone who asks.

Send the coupon for it. It will bring to you the best tooth paste that men have yet developed. And if it brings to you the gleamy teeth it brings to me, you will always be glad you know it.

Week's Activities At Bessemer School

Examinations Are Over For Present—Chapel Program Is Of Interest

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, Pa., Dec. 9.—Bessemer is promised a very interesting program for the following week. The students are rapidly recovering from a strenuous week of exams and are looking about for something new to keep them busy. One can never remain at a standstill, they either go backward or forward. Bessemer's motto is "Forward".

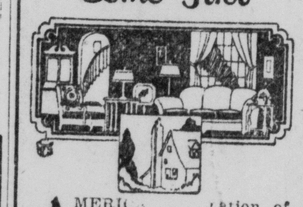
Last Thursday Mr. Winters had charge of the interesting lively chapel program. The hour passed rapidly. Jokes were read, cartoons drawn, representing various members of the Bessemer High school, readings were given and the orchestra also did its share in entertaining the student body. Mr. Byler, athletic coach, will have charge of the next program.

The regular Friday night movie will be held in the high school auditorium tomorrow evening.

For the past two weeks we have been entertained during our lunch period by class games. The excitement grows intense as the seventh graders make a basket while playing against the faculty. All of the classes have played at least one game, but as yet the championship has not been decided. The first game was between the Seniors and Freshies. The Seniors won with a score of 12-7. Next we were entertained by the Faculty playing the Seventh Graders. Despite the uneven match the game was a good one and the "youngsters" fought like tigers, even though they lost, 12-32. The third game was a combat between the Seventh and the Eighth Grades. How could the Eighth Grade team help but win when they were cheered so lustily by their classmates? The score was 12 to 2. The game between the Juniors and Seniors was a more evenly balanced one. The Seniors won with a score of 9 to 3. The Junior-Sophomore game was another well matched combat. The Juniors won by three points. Our last game was the Faculty-Eighth Grade game. Although the Faculty made the baskets and ran up the score, nevertheless, the grades showed some pretty passwork. If this keen interest and helpful cheering can only hold over and be used in real basketball we will be certain of many victories.

Next Saturday night, Dec. 11, the boys and girls of Bessemer will play the boys and girls of Poland on the Bessemer floor. This will be the first game of the season, so instead of prophesying results we will ask you just to come and see for yourself.

Your Home Should Come First



AMERICA is a nation of homes. It is reported that 55% of our population own their own homes! This alone should prove that in America the home comes first. Pride of ownership in a home of one's own is quickly followed by pride in its furnishings, and whether you own your home or are just renting a home, flat, or an apartment, your home should come first, especially with respect to its furnishings!

GOT YOUR TWO QUART SUPPLY?

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Every man, woman and child in the United States could have two quarts of intoxicating liquors, all the way from sparkling champagne to industrial alcohol, if the stocks on hand June 30, were equitably distributed. If a pint produces intoxication that means four jags per capita.

THREE KILLED IN CLASH

(International News Service)

HONGKONG, Dec. 9.—Three persons were killed and 30 wounded here today in a clash between rival silk workers' guilds.

Frenchy Says:

I read an account in Sunday's paper, where some fellow with more money than he knew what to do with paid $100,000.00 for an old RUG some 400 years old. When I had finished reading I looked out the window at it storming and thought what that $100,000.00 would do towards relieving the sufferings of the unfortunate and needy families in this country. So I decided right then that for the week beginning December 13th and ending December 18th, that we would donate to some worthy organization in New Castle, 2% of the gross receipts of our store for that week, to this organization, to help make Xmas more cheerful for the unfortunate and needy families in New Castle. That means if our receipts for the week above mentioned total $5,000.00 we will donate $100.00, if they total $10,000.00 we will donate $200.00 and so on. That doesn't sound like very much I will agree, but if every business house in the city will do as much, what a grand and glorious Xmas it will be in New Castle. Let's Go.

Few Christmas Seals Are Being Returned; Sales Going Fine

Many letters have been received of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society as the result of their sending out the 1926 Christmas seals.

Some of the writers comment on the fact that the system of sending out seals to the home is much better than having the school children sell them; others state that they believe this seal campaign is a worthy cause, and that they are pleased with the report of the work done last year as a result of the sale of these.

The remainder of the letters are requests for more seals or the place where they may be gotten.

The New Castle Dry Goods, Y. W. C. A., Higgins Brothers and the Tuberculosis Society office at 8 1-2 East street are the four places where the seals may be bought. The return of money for the seals is coming in fine, very few seals being sent back.

The following is the work done by this society during the month of November: fifty-five business calls, four sick calls, nine milk and Associated Charities investigations, 13 rural schools visited; 12 health talks given, eight half days spent in well baby clinics, the weekly attendance at two of these clinics being an average of 64; 76 tooth brushes delivered to rural schools. One hundred and forty-three children at Hill school inspected for pediculosis. Completed the six weeks' course in modern health crusade at the Braden school with 16 pupils, this being the first school to finish this course. One thousand five hundred pints of milk given out, 25 families benefited. Supplies given out, including: 108 new union suits, 21 new shirts, 16 pairs new drawers, three pairs new bloomers, 11 new night gowns, two new blankets, 183 pairs new hose, three pairs new shoes, two men's coats, two men's shirts, one girl's coat, one blanket, two boys' caps, six baskets of groceries, two tons of coal, 38 loaves of bread, two sacks of flour, 32 families were aided, 140 persons aided, seven investigations for outside agencies; 75 business and telephone calls, 75 office and home visits. The following personal difficulties have been covered: 11 widows, 10 of illness, one of imprisonment, one of insanity, one of desertion and eight insufficient income cases.

All nationalities have been benefitted by the society. For the month of November they were: nine American, nine Italian, five negro, four Austrian, three Polish, one Hungarian and one Greek.

Besides all of this work, many days have been spent in the office making ready for the Christmas seal campaign.

From the Thanksgiving contribution of food and money of the Senior High school $88.35 has been received and will be used for the carrying out of the work mentioned above.

Beside this contribution, 894 new garments were sent in by the local branch of the Needlework Guild. 24 pairs of new woolen hose turned over from the city department of the poor and many valuable donations from individuals.

During Thanksgiving the society gave the names of five families to church societies wishing to give Thanksgiving baskets.

Largest Christmas Tree Ever Erected

New Castle's Community Christmas tree was put in place this afternoon at the public square in preparation for the visit of Santa Claus and his reindeers from the top of the world on Friday.

The tree secured from the Graceland Cemetery company property is probably the largest Christmas tree ever erected here. It is fully 20 feet in height with many fine spreading branches. It is fully a foot across at the base and is a wonderful speciman of a tree for the purpose for which it is to be used.

Council To Consider Improvement Project In Making Budget

When members of city council convene next week to compile the budget for 1927 they will give consideration to a program that may result in a number of important improvements being put through, starting next spring.

One of the most important proposed will be the proposed extension of Butler avenue between East Washington street and Cunningham avenue along the Pittsburgh, Harmony, Butler and New Castle railway.

According to city officials the officials of the Lehigh Cement company have promised to give to the city a stretch of ground along the route. The P. H., B. and N. C. tracks will be moved to the center of the avenue.

It is said that the only hitch in the program at the present time is a conference with Superintendent Etheridge of the rail compauy. If he agrees the project will be probably carried out next year.

New Fire Station.

Another improvement will be the erection of a new fire house station in South Jefferson street. Another building to be used for storage purposes, also will be erected. The East street building may be remodeled and rented.

Relative to the proposed paving program council will consider:

Lathrop, Williams, Taylor streets; Butler, Winslow and Delaware avenues and also the eastern end of Walnut street. The northern end of Croton avenue will be repaved or resurfaced.

Another big project considered is the resurfacing or repaving of Cedar street.

Crawford avenue, between Main street and Croton avenue may be repaved or resurfaced; Mahoning avenue may also be repaved or resurfaced while it has semi-officially been decided to resurface Jefferson street.

There has been a plea made at different times for improving West Washington street, from Front street to the city line. This proposal will also receive serious consideration.

It had been planned to widen Mercer street last summer but the plan was abandoned. However it is believed that council will widen North Mercer street early next spring.

Phillips, Lutton and Mercer streets, main arteries to the New Castle hospital will be paved according to an ordinance presented recently and South Jefferson street between Miller and Sharp streets will be given consideration.

In addition to the street improvement plan and a decision to erect new municipal buildings in South Jefferson street council will study the proposed extension and paving of Atlantic avenue between Washington and State streets.

Recently council approved a survey of sewage conditions and it is believed that Fuller and McClintock will soon commence the work. It is said by councilmen that the present sewers are too small. The report to be returned will carry a plan whereby the situation can be relieved for the next two score years. It will point out where intercepting sewers will be built north of Mahoning avenue as it is said that the entire city sewer system north is congested.

City garbage department officials have time and again urged the paving of Sampson street from the end of the present point to the city line. They claim the street is nigh impassable during winter and spring weather and that it interferes with haulage and causes damage to trucks.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

Rice cooked with raisins or dates makes a nice breakfast dish, taking the place of other cereals. Or it may be used as a dessert at lunch or dinner and served with either cream and sugar or hard sauce. For dessert it is nice to cook the rice in milk instead of water.

Orange Juice
Boiled Rice with Raisins or Dates
Fried or Broiled Ham
Whole Wheat Toast
Coffee or Substitute

TODAY'S RECIPES

Boiled Rice—Rice may be boiled an hour or so in the double boiler or twenty minutes in swiftly boiling water in an aluminum saucepan, occasionally giving it a shake to see that is does not stick. Stirring with a spoon is more apt to break the grains. The raisins or dates may be ready and folded in at the last minute or boiled with the rice, as you prefer.

SUGGESTIONS

Christmas Plum Puddings

One cup suet, two and two-thirds cups stale bread crumbs, one cup grated raw carrot, four eggs, one and one-third cups brown sugar, one lemon, grated rind and juice, one cup raisins, one-half cup currants, one-quarter cup sliced citron, one-eighth cup flour, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon grated nutmeg, one-quarter teaspoon cloves.

Put the suet through a meat chopper or chop it fine in a bowl. Work the suet until creamy, using the hands. Work in the bread crumbs and the carrot.

Now add the egg yolks. Then the sugar. Next put in the lemon juice and rind. The fruit has been blended with the flour. This goes in next. Put the spices and salt in with the flour. It helps to carry them in a smooth mixture, and one is less apt to get a lump of cloves when eating the pudding.

Lastly, the stiffly beaten egg whites are folded in. Use a mold of the shape which pleases you. Butter it and put the batter in. Cover tightly and steam for three and one-half hours. This may be kept in the mold and resteamed on the day it is served.

Children's Party.

When at a loss as to how to decorate the table for the children's party, buy a pound of animal crackers and a pound of vanilla wafers. Dif the feet of the animals into white of egg or a cream icing and stand one animal on each wafer. Arrange to advantage and see how pleased the children will be.

Table Decorations

Something new in table decorations is painting on oilcloth with tube oil paints mixed with white enamel. The decorative motifs are stamped or traced on the oilcloth over carbon paper.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—here's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a billious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

HOME FROM 7,000-MILE AUTO TOUR

Lamont Brozel and Jimmy McCurdy returned home on Sunday after an absence of more than two months in touring the Southwest. They traveled distance of 7,000 miles, visiting the important cities in the states through which they passed, spending considerable time in Oklahoma City, New Mexico and Los Angeles, California. The entire trip was made by auto. They report that it is hard for a stranger to strike a job in those southern cities. They brought back some oranges and cotton which they picked. The boys have been sitting close to the blazing fire since they returned from the warm southland.

School Children In "Flower Fete"

School Youngsters Of Honolulu Plan To Typify Education By Flowers

SUGAR CROP IS REPORTED HUGE

(International News Service)

HONOLULU, Dec. 9.—Thousands of Honolulu school children, participating in a great "flower festival" which will be planned to typify education in the territory of Hawaii will be one of the major features of the program of entertainment arranged for the international conference to be held here next April under the auspices of the department of the interior.

Governor W. R. Farrington is active head of the committee of governmental and civic bodies that is in charge of local arrangements for this conference. Dr. J. J. Tigert, head of the U. S. bureau of education, is shaping up the program from the Washington end. Dr. Hubert Work will be general chairman of the meeting.

The purpose of the conference is to establish a basis of cooperation for the promotion of peaceful arts and pursuits among the participating countries; to provide a medium for exchange of knowledge on the subjects under discussion; to afford a wider field of service for certain technical activities, and to be of assistance to the territory of the participating countries. It is expected that all of the countries about the Pacific will send delegates. Tours will be made to points of interest on the various islands.

Official statistics submitted to the members of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association assembled here in annual conference showed that the year 1926 was a banner one for the production of sugar in these islands. The total crop taken off was 787,246 tons.

Ernest H. Wodehouse, manager of Theo. H. Davies & Co., Honolulu, was elected president for the coming year, to succeed F. C. Atherton, vice president of Castle & Cooke. Mr. Atherton in his closing message touched upon many vital features of the sugar industry.

Plantation labor is well satisfied, according to the report. The liberal pay given to workers here was illustrated by the fact that during September and October of this year there sailed back to the Philippines 723 men who have worked during their stay in Hawaii they had sent back to their homes savings amounting to $203,302. They had with them in drafts at the time of departure $116,061. In addition most of them took back such articles as sewing machines, bicycles, phonographs, furniture and a bountiful supply of wearing apparel.

An automatic lamp for controlling traffic at one of the street intersections just outside of the business zone of Honolulu has been installed as a monument to the memory of Peter Hose, famous hula traffic cop, who was known to thousands of tourists from all parts of the world and who died a little more than a year ago. The bronze plate on the side of the lamp bears this instruction: "Dedicated to the memory of Peter Hose, Honolulu's most courteous traffic cop, who smiled his way into the hearts of the people."

The long strand of black sand, known to every tourist who has visited the famous Kalapana beach, island of Hawaii, is said to be gradually disappearing as a result of changes in the ocean currents. This sand, which is jet black, has always been a most interesting sight to visitors. It appears to be finely pulverized ash, probably deposited some distance offshore by a volcanic flow which broke through the ocean floor and was brought in gradually by the action of the waves.

Hawaii's first representative in the territorial legislature of full Chinese blood is Yew Char, successful in the recent elections. Char was formerly a newsboy and bootblack on the streets of Honolulu. He is now a photographer by trade.

More Trouble

Mrs. Frank Lloyd Wright confronted trouble again when she and her trunk were ushered from a Chicago hotel in a dispute over a bill. Her worries began when her husband, the noted architect, left her for Olga Milanoff, a Russian dancer.

The man denies that he is Rassmussen.

Ashtabula police said they were advised that Rasmussen is a fugitive, and that they would hold the man under arrest until his identity is cleared up.

Lord Stamfordham May Quit Job As King's Secretary

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Lord Stamfordham, for many years personal private secretary to King George of England, is reported to be relinquishing his post at the end of the year. He will in all probability be succeeded by Colonel Clive Wigram, the king's assistant private secretary.

Lord Stamfordham is 78 years of age, and has been identified with various members of the British royal family since the beginning of the present century.

WOMAN ASKS $50,000 FACE-LIFT IS LOPSIDED

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—On the ground that her face was "lifted" on one side only, whereas she contracted to have it "lifted" on both, Mrs. Mabel A. Rice has asked the supreme court here for permission to bring a $50,000 damage suit against Dr. Charles Stephen Baker in place of the $10,000 suit she has pending.

Mrs. Rice says one side of her face still sags and she still has dark circles under her eyes, which she claims Dr. Baker said he would remove. Her complaint alleges that the doctor "so conducted himself that her face became damaged, scarred and horribly disfigured" and now bears no resemblance to the "youthful appearance" he led her to believe it would have.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

BOYS WILL BE BOYS

If you thing Peter was surprised at seeing a head and nothing else bob out at him from behind that tree (and he most certainly was) you ought to have seen the comical look of amazement that appeared on the face that belonged to that head. Its eyes grew round as saucers. Its mouth dropped open. The loose, black locks dropped over the eyes and the head shook them back out of the way.

Peter's cap had stood him in good stead many a time. When he was excited he always took it off and fanned his face with it. And he raised his arm to do so now when out of sight popped the woolly head.

"Bet you he thought I was going to throw something at him," thought Peter, and stood perfectly still. And Peter guessed right. After a minute when nothing had happened back bobbed the woolly head. Peter took a step forward and—the head disappeared. Then Peter thought of something and for the very life of him Peter could not help laughing.

"Jack-in-the-Box!" gasped he. "Ha, ha, ha! Ho, ho!"

Laughing in the face of some one whom you've never met is not good manners at all, but it was the best thing that Peter could have done.

"Ha, ha, ha! Ho, ho!" As hearty as Peter's own laugh came back an echo. One bobbed the head again, and now the eyes were twinkling and the mouth broaden ed in merry smile.

"Hello!" cried Peter.

"Hello yourself," came the answer, and from behind the tree trunk stepped a figure just about the size of Peter himself—a figure

"A BOY!" GASPED PETER. "A BOY!" CRIED THE NUT BROWN ONE

with two legs and two arms as brown as the nut-brown face they belonged to.

"A boy!" cried Peter, "how strange you look!"

"A boy!" chuckled the stranger, "but you are a sight as has never before been seen in our forest, I'll wager."

"But I can throw you wrestling!" cried the nut-brown lad.

"Bet you can't!" cried Peter.

That was enough for both. In a minute the surprised birds were looking down at a friendly scuffle, for boys will be boys, whether their skin is white or brown or their hair smooth or woolly.

Next: "Brave Heart."

DINNER STORIES

Recently a traveler called at an hotel in Paris and asked what the charge was for rooms.

"Forty francs for the first floor, thirty francs for the second, twenty francs for the third and ten francs for the fourth floor,' 'replied the hotel proprietor.

"Oh, very well, thank you" said the traveler as he turned to go away.

"That does not please you?" replied the proprietor as he called him back.

"Oh your prices are all right" said the traveler, "but your hotel is not high enough for me."

There was a commotion in the theater and the attendant was seen ejecting a man. The man was spluttering angrily when the manager came into the lobby.

"Why did you eject this man?" asked the manager.

He was hissing the performance" replied the attendant.

"Why did you hiss the performance?" asked the manager.

"I d-d-didn't h-h-hiss" stammered the man. "I m-m-m-merely s-s-said t-t-to m-m-my f-f-friend beside me: 'S-S-Sammy, is-s-n't the s-s-s-singing s-s-superb?' "

A witty Irishman was invited to a dinner party in the hopes that he would amuse and divert his host's guests. But from the beginning to the end of the dinner he preserved a solemn and serious face. The host was surprised.

"Why old fellow" he remarked "I don't believe the biggest fool in Ireland could make you laugh tonight."

"Try" was the cutting rejoinder.

Traffic Boys Misuse Their Privilege

According to the report made by W. H. Montgomery to the police, there are some of the boys designated at schools to regulate traffic at times when the pupils are leaving or entering school, who need to pay a little more attention to their business.

He was driving south on Highland avenue at the Highland school when two boys ran out on the street with their stop signs. He stopped his car very suddenly. The boys then ran back to the sidewalk and laughed at him. The police took the matter up with the school authorities and the boys will be reprimanded.

BASKETBALL SEASON GETTING UNDER WAY HERE

New Castle High Floor Team Will Open Season Friday With Grove City

By "BUGS" WALTHER

The New Castle High floor team will open their 1926-27 schedule on Friday night with Grove City as the opponents. Everything is in readiness for the curtain raiser with the exception of a suitable combination, said Ralph H. Gardner today.

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh will have to think fast in the next few hours. Faced with a squad of ten players, all of varsity timber, the coach will have the very unpleasant task of naming the five men to start the Grove City game.

Practices so far this week have been confined to signal drills and light scrimmages. Several of the boys look the part of real, honest-to-goodness floor workers and a spirited fight to gain posts on the team have taken place at the Senior High gym.

The final practice session of the week will be held this afternoon and it is up to Coach Bridenbaugh to name the starting line-up. It is the writer's opinion that Sillman and Franklin will be found at the forwards, with McClelland or Mcgrath at center, and Captain Klaber and Ostrosky at the guards. However, this is only guesswork and is not to be taken seriously.

There is a wealth of good basketball material available at the Senior High school this year. A squad numbering 25 men is out each evening.

It was announced today that the girls' varsity team would play the Rick-Overland girls as a preliminary to the boys' game.

Pro Football To Undergo Change For Next Year

C. C. Pyle And National Professional League May Combine

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Having discovered that the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow was filled with brass knuckles, there was evidence today that Clink Clank Pyle and the rival national professional football league might be willing to call it a career and start next season under the same banner. Mr. Pyle is said to have learned that, while there may be one born every minute, not enough of them live long enough to reach the box office.

What with poor weather and local apathy, they stayed away in droves during the 1926 season, and all local promoters felt the implied slight very keenly, especially at the pay-off.

Grange Loses

As for Harold "Red" Grange, the bright young man who was willing to start at the top and work down, it is understood that he has had a great plenty of being his own promoter. There are times when this entails the problem of paying yourself a profit out of your losses.

Greenville Team To Play Westminster

Westminster Team To Be Composed Largely Of Freshmen

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 9—Semi-college competition will be the portion of the Westminster college cage team next Wednesday evening. The Blue and White has been booked to play the Greenville Scholastics at New Wilmington, according to announcement by Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald. The game was booked at the request of Coach John Lawther, who is anxious to watch his squad in play against a team that is of college ranking.

The visitors will be led by Nickerson, a former Thiel college star, who will be at one guard position. Metzgar, a guard on the Slippery Rock State Normal school five last year, will be Nickerson's running mate. Dorwart and Gardner will be at the forwards and Gibson at center. The last named three are former Greenville high players.

Lawther has resorted to scrimmage sessions which resemble regular games in order to test the material included in the first ten men he has selected. Regulation periods are played. In addition to keeping the score, the number of shots attempted and made by each man on the floor are tabulated.

The manner in which the two teams have been lining up for these inter-squad games may or may not mean anything in regards the future. Lawther has been using Ralph Thomas of Sharon and John Brown of Turtle Creek at the forwards, Connors of New York City at center with Howard Logan of Edgeworth and Tudor Lewis of Farrell at the guards on his first team. All are freshmen with the exception of Logan, a senior. The second team has had Coles of Homestead and Lewis of Turtle Creek at forwards, Crowell of Sharon at center, Gamble of Sharon and Stewart of McKeesport at the guards.

McDonald may also arrange a barnstorming trip for the holidays. The regular season opens January 4 with Adrian college here.

Detroit's Hope

By Feg Murray

Among the pitchers that George Moriarty will count on heavily next year to bring the Cobbless Tigers up to the top of the American League percentage table is Owen Carroll, the former Holy Cross star, who last October completed a very satisfactory minor league season with the championship Toronto team of the International League.

The "Leafs'" five straight wins from the Louisville "Colonels", champions of the American Association, to clinch the junior world series is ancient history, but let me refresh your mind a bit on the part played by Owen Carroll in Toronto's overwhelming victory. The sensational pitching of the ex-collegian was more or less lost in the tremendous publicity given to the world series, which opened while the Toronto-Louisville games were in session.

This is what Owen Carroll did in the second game—the only one in the series in which he pitched—played at Toronto on September 29. The big right-hander had to go 11 innings to win, but the further he went the better he got. His puzzling curve and zipping fast ball kept the Colonels guessing, and in all Carroll struck out 13 men. Included in this record mention must be made of the four opponents whom he fanned in one inning: Webb and Cotter struck out, and then Catcher Steve O'Neill missed the third strike on Belzel, allowing the latter to reach first base. The next two batters hit safely, and then Carroll whiffed Cullop for the fourth strike-out. Owen himself tied the score in the ninth with a sensational slide to the plate.

In his years at Holy Cross Carroll lost only two games out of 50, which made veteran baseball men rank him even higher than "Matty", Bender, Plank and Coombs as a college pitcher. He joined the Tigers in the summer of 1925, but got off to a disastrous start, many fans giving Ty Cobb the blame for it. But Ty is gone now, and as the Yuletide season of the year approaches, the Tiger's new manager, George Moriarty, must smile as, thinking of his 1927 pitching staff, he hums a merry Christmas Carroll.

Feg Murray Says—

"I feel tired to death," gurgled the six-day bike racer as the wheels of ten of his opponents' machines passed over his neck.

Wampum Indies Win Opening Floor Battle

The Indies took the lead at the very outset of the battle and were never headed. At the first half the Wampumites led by a score of 28 to 14. The Wampum boys flashed a fast passing and running attack.

Patterson ran wild in the final half of the game and netted five markers in almost as many minutes, his total for the game was eight. Boone and Hennon were much in evidence throughout the game, each player having six field goals.

The defensive work of Ferrucci was of the highest type. For Struthers the work of Wells and Polite was the best, the former caging four and the latter five field goals.

Latzo Defeats Joe Simonich

Welterweight King Retains Title In Bout With Montana Mauler

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Plainly showing the effects of his five-months' lay-off, Pete Latzo, world's welterweight champion, nevertheless gained a clear decision on points over Joe Simonich, Butte, Mont., last night in a 12-round bout in Newark.

No decision was rendered, according to Jersey law, and Latzo's title was not at stake, both men weighing well over the welterweight limit.

Latzo's weight was announced as 154 pounds. He has been out of the ring with an injured hand.

The champion couldn't untrack himself for the first four rounds and Simonich piled up a lead on points, thrice scoring with hard rights to the head in the third round. After the fourth, however, Latzo went to the pace and won as he pleased, battering Simonich all over the ring. Pete sustained a bad gash over one eye in a collision during an early round.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Secretary of State Kellogg says he has adopted a "firm policy" toward Mexico. President Calles of Mexico says his policy's as firm as Secretary Kellogg's.

Both seem to mean it.

An irrestible force and an immovable body!

What would happen when these two encountered one another has long been a scientific problem.

It will be solved soon after the first of the year. Then's when Secretary Kellogg's "firm policy" and President Calles' equally "firm policy" are due to crash together.

The issue is clean cut. There's nothing complicated about it.

Under Mexican laws dating from 1917 foreign oil producers in the republic are denied the right to own their lands outright. They're limited to 50-year leases.

Some time ago President Calles called on all such oil producers to ask before Jan. 1, 1927, for confirmation of their titles.

To those who complied, he promised 50-year leases. The properties of those who balked, he gave warning would be confiscated.

Nobody disputed Mexico's right to dictate concerning oil titles acquired later than 1917. Interests which acquired titles earlier than that year, however, set up a howl. Lands they secured in good faith, before the laws were changed, they insisted were theirs for keeps, regardless of subsequent changes.

Calles charged that a lot of the pre-1917 concessions were crookedly acquired.

The concessionnaires rejoined that that was none of Calles' business—they got what they got from the then regularly constituted Mexican government, and nobody has a right to go back of the returns and pick flaws in their titles at this late day.

Calles refused to modify his program.

Finally most of the European oil interests in the republic have knuckled under and are going to accept 50-year leases.

Not so the Americans. Backed by Secretary Kellogg, they're standing pat. If there's anything in signs, they'll lose their lands—unless something happens to Calles.

Kellogg's style is somewhat cramped by the United States senate, which shows little disposition to consent to physical interference by this country in affairs south of the Rio Grande.

Senator Borah of Utah, who, as chairman of the foreign affairs committee in the upper house of congress, has a great deal to say in such matters, has given notice that he won't agree to anything of the sort. So has Senator Norris of Nebraska. So have several other influential senators.

Still, Kellogg can break diplomatic relations between Washington and Mexico City. He can permit anti-Calles Mexicans to arm on this side of the border.

The game is one that two can play at and neither Kellogg nor Calles appears to have any notion of laying down his hand. The cards will begin to fall Jan. 1 or soon thereafter. It will be a contest of luck and skill with plenty of ill feeling on both sides, and if it breaks up in a row nobody knows how many innocent bystanders ultimately will be dragged into it.

Coke Production Takes Tumble

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 9.—Coke production in the Connellsville region is down to the lowest level in two months, a survey of the week's activities showed today. Figures for the week ending December 7 show the tonnage to have been 138,650 as compared with 142,360 the previous week.

The bulk of the decline was at plants of the furnace interests, the merchants going along at practically the same rate as for several weeks. They have been able by regular production to satisfy the demand. Buyers in fact have found difficulty at times in picking up any considerable tonnage in emergencies.

Reports indicate the market for the past week has been poor with price recessions. Prices were quoted today at $3.75 to $54 for spot furnace, while foundry commanded a maximum of $5.25. Heating coke is selling at prices below those obtained for the standard furnace grade.

Between 75,000, and 100,000 baseballs are required for use of the major leagues in a single season.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

That the past football season was a hectic one is indicated by the rumors flitting about regarding possible changes in the coaching staffs at some of the leading institutions.

At least one coach has already turned in his resignation as the result of the mediocre showing made by his team the past fall.

He is Frank Gargan, mentor of the grid team at Fordham for the past five seasons. The same rumor hits that Major Frank Kavanaugh now coach at Boston college, may succeed Gargan.

Gargan's resignation follows one poor season. In 1925 and the preceding season of 1924 he had produced the two greatest teams Fordham had ever boasted.

In 1924 the eleven defeated New York university 27 to 0 and Georgetown 9 to 6, among other formidable rivals. The following year the team plowed its way through the season undefeated until it met Georgetown.

The past season Gargan's men won three of its eight games and tied another. This record, of course, holds no great thrills for the Fordham students, officials and old grads. But it is almost a superhuman task to hold a football team at the crest year after year.

The team lost the services of Captain Joe Manning, Joe Obester, Art Stevenson, Bill Woerner and one or two other men. Then the athletic and school heads adopted the freshman rule for the first time, which automatically cut off more possible material. Then an epidemic of injuries further handicapped the team.

But in these days of high powered football a coach must produce a winner. So Gargan is going. It was intimated at the start of the season that this might be his last, but it seems a shame for the man to go out with the last act reading as it does—after setting such a great record.

Comes word from Syracuse university that Tom Keane, veteran track and field coach, has been given a year of rest by that institution to regain his health. He has served Syracuse as track coach for 20 years and is probably one of the best known trainers in the game.

Keane developed, among other champion athletes, Allan Woodring, Charlie Reidpath, Chet Bowman and Cecil Cooke, last year's 44-yard intercollegiate champ. His duties for the balance of this school year will be handled by Les Bryan, track star of two and three years ago and assistant to Keane.

Drafting System May Be Changed

(International News Service)

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Dec. 9.—Gradual abolition of the system of major league teams drafting players from the minor leagues is expected to result within the next few years as result of the movement under way today at the annual convention of professional baseball leagues.

Officials of the association were instructed to draw up another agreement, which would allow various minors to refuse or accept the draft by April, 1927. The Texas League already has announced its intention of doing away with the draft.

Sessions today will wind up the 1926 convention.

Nine Bridges Will Be Built In Mercer

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Dec. 9. — Plans and specifications of nine bridges in Mercer County are being drawn up by County Engineer F. P. Graham in preparation for the summer work of 1927. The bridges are all small and most of them are made necessary due to the floods of this fall which so weakened the structures that replacing them with new bridges was necessary. The nine are estimated to cost $18,000.

There are 700 bridges in Mercer County that come under the care of the County Commissioners. When it is considered that ten years ago not one of them was of the modern construction type of steel and concrete and that all of them were antiquated at that time even due to the arrival of the motor age the county officials have done well to keep them in condition. Each year the bridge building program has been extensive from force of necessity. For 1926 the program totaled $160,000.

Fourteen victories, a dozen defeats and four tie games constitute the record made by Wisconsin's football teams in their 23 years of relations with the University of Chicago.

Sentence Sermons

By Rev. Roy D. Smith, D. D.

NOTHING IS AS BAD—

As gossips can make it appear.
When it happens as our fears make it seem beforehand.
As a cynic wishes it might be.
When I face it as it is when I try to dodge it.
For any man whose conscience is clear.
As it would be if we did not believe God was on the side of right.
When we try as when we give up in despair.

Bible Still Remains Best Seller On Earth

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—The Bible is still the world's best seller.

A comparison at a mail order house here with the kind and number of books sold discloses that more than 150,000 Bibles have been dispatched this year to all parts of the world a generous proportion going to missionaries in foreign countries.

Purchasers in country areas will not tolerate innovations in Bibles. They are satisfied and demand plain black leather binding and easily readable type. They all want the King James Version.

The demand for "clean" books is becoming more urgent, the farmer and small town resident apparently having no time for literary "trash."

Curling is popular in every part of Canada and the city of Winnipeg is generally regarded as the world centre of this winter sport.

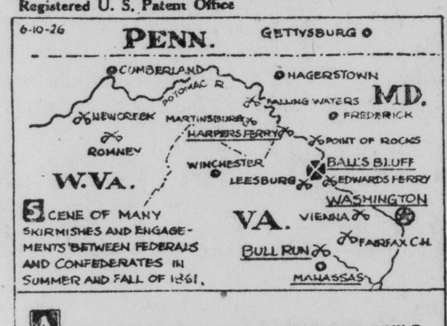
Battle of Ball's Bluff.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

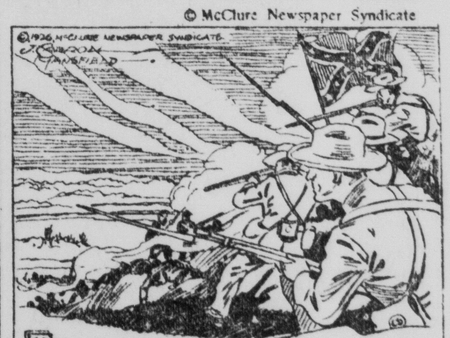
© McClure Newspaper Syndicate



AFTER THE BATTLE OF BULL RUN AND WHILE GENERAL GEORGE B. MCCLELLAN WAS TRAINING HIS HOST OF UNION VOLUNTEERS ON THE POTOMAC, NO GREAT ENGAGEMENTS WERE FOUGHT IN THAT REGION, BUT MANY IMPORTANT SKIRMISHES AND FIERCE CLASHES TOOK PLACE BETWEEN THE OPPOSING BLUE AND GRAY FORCES.

IN OCTOBER, 1861, MCCLELLAN, WISHING TO DETERMINE THE STRENGTH OF THE CONFEDERATES, ORDERED A RECONNOISSANCE IN FORCE AT SEVERAL POINTS ALONG THE RIVER. ON OCT. 21, GEN. E. D. BAKER WITH 2,100 MEN (MASS., N. Y., CAL., AND R. I. VOLUNTEERS) CROSSED THE POTOMAC TO MAKE A DEMONSTRATION AGAINST LEESBURG, VIRGINIA.

CLIMBING TO THE CREST OF BALL'S BLUFF, BAKER'S TROOPS ENCOUNTERED A STRONG BODY OF CONFEDERATES (MISS. AND VA. REGIMENTS) UNDER GENERAL N. G. EVANS. A UNION CHARGE, IN WHICH BAKER WAS KILLED, WAS REPULSED AND THE SOUTHERNERS, ATTACKING ON THREE SIDES, DROVE THE FEDERALS TO THE STEEP BANK OF THE RIVER.



THE RETIREMENT BECAME A ROUT AND THE UNION TROOPS RE-CROSSED THE POTOMAC WITH A TOTAL LOSS OF ALMOST HALF THE NUMBER OF MEN ENGAGED. THIS DISASTER SHOCKED THE NORTH AND RESULTED IN AN INQUIRY AND THE BRIEF IMPRISONMENT OF GEN. STONE, BAKER'S SUPERIOR, UPON WHOM THE BLAME FELL.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Short covering and speculative buying of the high-priced industrials and specialties accounted for the moderate rally during early trading on the stock exchange today. A few of the railroad shares, principally the stocks of the "coal roads" participated more actively in the transactions in this period. Lehigh Valley topped its best previous price records at 98, and Reading sold a point higher.

The long-heralded entrance of Standard Oil of New York to the "Big Board" was without incident, and the stock appeared on the tape only twice in the first half hour, with sales at 32⅞ and 32⅝, the balance of the oil list was also inactive but steady.

Nash was given the position of leadership in the motor stocks, strength in the motors is attributed to the usual pre-automobile show "dressing up" of the motor share market. Nash sold up nearly two points to 61, the highest price on the move, while Dodge was in good demand at 20¼ Hudson at 49 and Studebaker at 56¼.

Resumption of heavy selling in cotton futures resulted in a new decline of about $1.50 a bale in some positions. Grain markets were irregular, with narrow price changes. Call money renewals 5 per cent.

New Church Will Be Built In Moody Avenue, According To Permit

Members of the congregation of the First church, Christian science, this city, plan to erect a $12,000 church at 334 East Moody avenue, it has been learned. A permit for the building has been issued to J. H. Fleming, according to Building Permit Clerk Neil Williams.

Although the plans have not yet been entirely completed, it is said that the building committee will consider them at a meeting to be held in this city Friday night.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS SCORE COMEDY SUCCESS

stand out in the presentation of "A Lucky Break". First that Miss Clara Hartsuff has turned out another winner; second, that this year's crop of Thespians suffers little by comparison with those of others years, and third, that the show got the patronage it richly deserves.

The play is full of "wise cracks" and clever "gag" lines. The plot is an old one, dressed up with some modern situations. A widow with a lovely daughter, no money to provide a career, a home town boy returns from the big city with a dime for every icicle in Greenland, a lot of comic situations, a village miser, the home town boy provides money to pay off the mortgage, curtain, lights and a few snappy bars by the orchestra. Nothing heavy, has nothing in common with the Einstein theory of relativity, and one does not require a knowledge of the technique of Shaw or Pirandello to enjoy it. It's purpose is to make you laugh, and these young ladies and gentlemen of the senior high school do a thoroughly delightful job of it.

A Big Cast.

The cast of "A Lucky Break" is not a small one, rather it resembles a cross section of the telephone directory, all of which contributes to the task of training.

The leads are Martha Mullett (Eleanore Hutchison), proprietress of the Mullett hotel, and John Bruce (Norman Cotton), a former son of Matasquam, Conn., where the scene is laid, but who has made his pile in Wall Street. Both difficult parts, for it is ever difficult for youngsters to portray the actions and emotions of older people. That they do it well is to their credit, for both of them have a poise and an ease that is pleasing.

There are two ingenue parts, that of Nora Mullett (Dorothy Jean Wallace) and Claudia Barrett (Harriet Martin). Nora is the daughter of Mrs. Mullett, while Claudia is the daughter of Mrs. Barrett. Perhaps you know these two little damsels. If you do, you'll agree that all they have to do is to act natural to get by with a loud bang. They do that thing, and how. Miss Wallace is a blonde, not quite as much so as the kind Anita Loos says gentlemen prefer, while Miss Martin is a brunette and a direct refutation of the Loos theory. And clever? My oh my yes, Ambrose.

Virginia, How Could You!

The serious work of making you laugh is handed to Miss Virginia Reeher, who has the part of Elmine Ludine Smith, a servant. To begin with, let it be understood that Virginia isn't as dumb as her face would indicate in the play. No one could possibly be so dumb for her face is the ultimate in vacuity. Elmine is one of those types men forget, easily, but the audience won't forget her for a long time for her antics. In theatrical parlance she "carried the show" and if she was a laugh in the first two acts, she's a full fledged case of hysterics in the third when she changes to her vampire costume. She also has a detour in her speech.

Another, or rather two other laughs, are Abner Ketcham (Allan Haid) and Benny Ketcham (George Ruggy). Abner is one of those open handed fellows who never goes out in a canoe because it tips too often. A heart in him as big as a gnat's adenoids, if you get what we mean. Allan also has a difficult part, for it takes ability for a lad of his age to delineate the part of a crabbed old miser and still make you laugh, which he does.

Benny, his nephew, is one of those super-salesmen. One of these expansive sort of lads who feels he could sell safety razors to a barber supply house. Rather modest, too, for he seems to feel that somewhere in the world there are salesmen who are as good as he. Not that he ever heard of them. Nice work this young man does.

Of course, there are guests in the hotel. Bella McWatt (Lucille

BARBARA BRATCHIE

Emery) is one, and what a guest. She admits to having been married, and the probabilities are that the secretary of war tied the knot. Nice pleasant sort of girl who must have royal blood in her veins, for you feel an overwhelming impulse to crown her. However, as Brutus said to Caesar the morning he nicked him with the cheese carver, "it's all in fun" and you'll laugh at Bella. Mrs. Barrett (Barbara Bratschie) is the other guest and the lady seems born to wear a lorgnette. High hat, y'understand, oh very, and clever withal.

Another pair of lads you'll like is Tommy Lansing (Robert Turner)' a painter, and Charles Martin (Charles Knobloch). A pair of bonny youths, to be sure, calculated to cause palpitation in the heart of many a lassie. Also pleasingly efficient in their work.

And on the right, ladies and gentlemen we have Alchiba Spinster and Alphecca Spinster, the "Soulful Sisters" who are taking interpretative dancing. They would, they're just the type. These parts are taken by Margaret Gillespie and Betty Houston, and they can't help being graceful in spite of the gawkiness their part calls for.

A Solo Dancer.

Then we have Jura Charente (Rosalind Ehrlich) and her brother Var Charente (George Reynolds). They are French, they teach dancing, and after watching Miss Rosalind do a special dance number in the third act, you'll want to join the class.

Other characters in the cast are Spivins (George Trainor), a bus man; Tokio (Mac Chambers), a Japanese valet; and Watkins (Raymond Toler), a chauffeur. Small parts but given a lot of attention.

Guests and dancers in the cast are Frances Beadel, William Kirk, Audrey Baker, Thomas Dickey, Hazel Bergland, James Blanning, Lida Fischler, Kenneth McLure, Harriet Beadel, George Trainor, Mary Whalen, Raymond John, Sara Cobau, Stanton Wettich, Josephine Sowersby, Norman Lockhart, Evelyn Thayer and Harry Lampe.

And that's "A Lucky Break". Just the sort of thing for a troupe of high school students to do and New Castle high school students have always done such things well. That they do this one well is just another indication of the training they get. You'll want to see it, of course, or have you had your daily laugh today? Have one on the house, by seeing the school play tonight. It's just what the doctor ordered.

Features on Program.

Aside from the play itself there were some features that contributed no little to the enjoyment of the evening. Audrey Baker, Josephine Sowersby, Hazel Bergland, Harriet Beadel and Mary Whalen present a series of graceful dances that prove conclusively that the modern girl is certainly taught to be graceful. Nedra Baker provided the piano accompaniment.

Another feature is a mixed chorus, directed by Miss Isabelle Zehner. This time Miss Zehner has a sure enough mixed chorus, and it is to be hoped that she keeps this group together for they sing very well. The chorus is composed of the following:

Soprano—Blodwin Davis, Mary Elizabeth Rhodes, Florence Scott, Kathryn Preston, Marie Wilson, Gladys Thompson, Cecil Morris, Sara Crammer.

Tenor—Charles Nealis, Karl Schmidt, Bruce Troutman, Sherwood Brown, Wesley Smith, Paul McWilliams, Sherwood Johns.

Alto—Anna Green, Mellie Osburne, Isabelle Thomas, Alice Shuler, Ruth Campbell, Ruth Stanley, Olive Grassel, Martha Wilson.

Bass—Herbert Smith, Norman Lewis, Jack Huston, Chester Bees, Alman Morris, Paul Wilson, Joe Cozza, Oren McFarland.

Accompanist—Elizabeth Steen.

You won't mind it because we've saved reference to the orchestra to the last, will you? The senior high school orchestra is as much a part of a play at the senior high school as meringue is to a cream pie. You could get along without it, but then who wants to? They mean a lot to the evening's entertainment, and last night was one of their usual splendid performances. La Verne Irvine directed.

Fire Causes $500 Damage At New Bedford Coal Co.

Damage to the extent of $500 was done to the tipple of the New Bedford Coal Company, operated by Dagan Brothers, on Wednesday. The fire was discovered by residents in the vicinity of the place and a call sounded for the New Bedford volunteer fire department.

Had it not been for the ready response of the volunteers with the chemical fire-fighting apparatus of the town, the loss would have been much greater.

The firemen found it necessary to refill the chemical tanks three times, doing so in a few minutes and having fire-fighting liquid pouring on the flames in a short time in each instance.

The fire was confined to the tipple and prevented from spreading into the warehouse of the company. The damage done will be repaired in a few days. The company will be handicapped for a few days in the handling of its business.

Hubbard-Caldwell Suit About Ready For Deliberations

Indications Are That Jury In Heart Balm Suit Will Retire Shortly

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 9. — A battle of rhetoric between two ranking members of the Western Pennsylvania bar today was to bring to a conclusion the $500,000 heart balm suit of Anne Caldwell, New York actress, against John W. Hubbard, millionaire Pittsburgh clubman, in Federal court here. The case was expected to go to the jury at noon.

Limited to an hour and a quarter each in their final arguments to the jury by mutual agreement, Rody P. Marshall, defense attorney and Earl Reed, Miss Caldwell's chief counsel, were to plead the cases of their respective clients after a week of sensational disclosures before Judge W. H. S. Thomson and a crowded courtroom.

The suit, in point of popular interest, has been without parallel in court annals here. Hubbard, who is interested in nearly a score of Pittsburgh manufacturing concerns, with holdings totaling several millions, was accused by the comely actress with having become intimate with her upon promise of marriage. A packet of ardent love letters was read into the records during the trial, picturing the millionaire's deep regard for Miss Caldwell.

Several Republican members, it was said, are opposed to making overtures to the insurgents.

Boy Is Injured While Coasting

Accident Occurs On Rural Avenue Hill—Lad's Leg Broken

Richard, Jr., 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Johns of Park avenue, suffered a fracture of the left leg Tuesday evening while sled riding on Rural avenue. He was pulling his sled up the hill, when he was hit and knocked down by James Metzler, who was coasting down the hill.

The child was removed to his home where a physician was summoned, and it was found that his left leg was fractured just below the knee, and there were a number of bruises and scratches about the face. His condition is as well as can be expected.
